Col. W. S. Huff's Platform.

DAHLONEGA, GA.,
March 21, 1904.

As I am a candidate before the democratic white primary for the office of representative in the General Assembly of Georgia from Lumpkin county, I deem it advisable at this time to give the voters some of my views on some of the great public questions that will come before the legislature for consideration.

COL. W. S. HUFF.
Candidate for the Legislature.

First of all, I am a democrat. All my people know where I stand on this matter, and to that end I believe in white supremacy and a white man's government. Believing this, I shall, if elected, support a measure with all my ability, to divide between the black and white races, the money appropriated to the common and public schools of this state in the proportion to the respective taxes paid by each race.

This I deem is just and right, being founded upon the moral principle of rendering unto every man his dues. For nearly forty years has the burden of educating and civilizing the negro race rested upon the shoulders of the white race of the south. With forty years of schooling, paid for by the white people of our state, it would be only reasonable to suppose that the negro race could now take care of its own race and civilization.

I further pledge myself, if elected, to introduce a bill amending the constitution of this state and endeavor to the best of my ability to push it to its final passage, prohibiting any person from holding an office in this state except a white person. It is true the 15th amendment to the constitution of the U. S., which is in these words, "The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United or any state, on account of race, color or previous condition or servitude," does not prohibit the states from passing any law denying the right to vote to the negroes, yet this right to vote, as held by Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, who was the author of the 15th amendment, and previously in 1820, in a speech to the constitutional convention of Massachusetts by Daniel Webster, the great champion of human liberty, and later, since the passage of said amendment, by Georgia's great luminary, Chief Justice Hiram Warner, one of the ablest justices who has ever adorned Georgia's Supreme bench, in a very able opinion in the 39th Ga. report, written in 1869, that the right to hold office was left with the respective states to say who should be eligible to hold the public offices.

The passage of the above proposed laws would serve in a great measure to solve the negro problem and to remove this hideous nightmare of negro domination which is continuously flaunted in our faces by a partisan Republican press, whose prayer has always been to see black heels on white necks, and a president who heralds it to the world that he considers an Alabama negro the social equal of himself and family.

Since a negro votes under the constitution of the United States and holds an office under the provisions of the constitution of the state of Georgia, which provision allowing them to hold office in the constitution of 1877 is identical in substance, in the same words as in the constitution of 1868, which was saddled upon the people of Georgia by northern carpet-baggers and the newly franchised negroes, aided and encouraged by the presence of federal soldiers. I call upon the people of Lumpkin county and the entire state to assert their rights by making this class ineligible to hold office.

If this amendment to the constitution was passed and ratified by the people of Georgia it would be contrary to law and unconstitutional for the president of the United States to fill the offices in the district and circuit courts of the United States in this state and the custom offices and post offices with any one except a white person.

I believe that every confederate soldier, who served a reasonable time during the terrible war between the states from 1861 to 1865, and who has an honorable discharge, should have a pension paid him by the state of Georgia. The best days of his young manhood were given to the service of his state, fighting for the principles of right, and it is but just that the state should now, in the full bloom of its prosperity, render to him a full measure of its assistance in his old age. His dependent widow should also not be neglected, and I believe the state should pension her. Under the law as it now stands, no confederate widow who was not married to the soldier, prior to April 1865, can draw a pension, thereby working hardship and injustice to the girl of that time, who saw the sweet-heart of her youth don the honored grey uniform, shoulder his musket and march out to four years of struggle and hardship, and all through the four years she waited his return from service—to see him return wounded and diseased, his home and property destroyed, and his friends menaced by the newly enfranchised, ignorant negro, and carpet bagger and scallawag, she renewed to him her plighted troth, became his wife. And they together have builded the homes, have raised the sons and daughters, who have made Georgia the empire state of the South, indeed and in truth. I therefore believe that it would be but justice to grant a pension to all widows of confederate soldiers who were married to the soldier prior to the year 1875, thus believing, if elected, will support a measure of this kind.

I believe that the pensions of confederate soldiers, and widows of confederate soldiers, should be paid to them quarterly instead of annually. The money is now paid to them annually, in mid winter. To pay it to them quarterly would divide it so they could get their money at four seasons of the year: In the cold winter a fourth, in the spring a fourth, in the hard dull season of summer a fourth and in the fall a fourth, when they need it most to buy the necessary comforts to prepare them for the hard cold season of winter.

If elected, these are some of the measures I will advocate, and push to the utmost of my ability, believing them to be right and to the best interest of the state.

On all other measures I shall act as a democrat, taking the whole of the democratic doctrine as my platform. I shall stand on every plank of it. The democratic doctrine being the shield and safe guard of human liberty and state's rights.

I am very respectfully yours,
W. S. HUFF.
The New Bird Law.

The law prohibiting the killing of insectivorous birds in Georgia, passed at the session of the legislature last summer, went into effect January 1.

The birds that come under this head are the woodpeckers of every kind, mocking birds, blue jays, robins, sparrow hawks, screech owls, cranes, egrets, herons and bull bats. All of these birds, especially the bull bat, are almost exclusively insectivorous, and for this reason the legislature was requested to pass a law protecting them.

The birds that are not protected under this law are the crow, blackbird, rice bird, field larks, chicken hawks, horned owls and English sparrows.

He Didn't Kiss the Cook.

A prominent and popular business man of this city is at present the cause of considerable merriment to his friends by reason of an amusing incident that occurred at his home a few days ago. He was recently married and, of course, is devoted to his charming wife. As sometimes happens in the very best regulated households, the servant girl left, or was required to leave the employ of the happy pair, and, therefore, the bride officiated as cook and housemaid pending the engagement of another domestic. Upon reaching home one afternoon and after letting himself in with a latchkey, the husband started in the direction of the kitchen loudly singing:

"I'm going to kiss the cook, I'm going to kiss the cook, I'm going to kiss—"

As he dashed through the kitchen doorway in eagerness to embrace his wife, the head of the house was confronted by a typical black mammy, of uncertain age, who had been employed that day without his knowledge. The wife was hiding beneath the kitchen table enjoying the discomfiture of her spouse, while the real cook grinned as though she enjoyed the situation thoroughly.

The husband maintains a discreet silence when he reaches home these days, especially as his wife concluded that the joke was too good to keep.—Washington Star.

Beating a Rockefeller.

Chardon, Ohio, a little town near Cleveland, has been standing by one of its people, the driver of a tank wagon, for nearly two years in his resistance to the standard. Three different standard tank wagons have been beaten out of Chardon, though they offered oil at two cents less than Hessler, the independent. The support of Hessler seems to have become a point of honor with the little town, and the victorious driver utters a great truth when he says: "A man who has his neighbors behind him cannot be beaten by a millionaire."—Ida M. Tarbell in McClure's.

A story is told of some visitors who were going through one of the state penitentiaries under escort of the warden. After awhile they came to a room where three women were sewing, "dear me," whispered one of the visitors to another, "what vicious looking creatures! Pray, what are they here for?" "Because they have no other home," replied the warden. "They are my wife and two daughters, and this is their sitting room."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 2, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Let every democrat be sure to register before the 10th day of this month.

Our friend, Mr. Tom Bell, is trying to blow himself into congress by Richard Bros. brass band.

At Nashville last week, a preacher, Rev. B. A. Cherry, was sent to prison handcuffed charged with perjury.

At Safford, Ark., last week, five negroes were taken from the guards and shot to death on account of race troubles.

Mrs. Thomas Reynolds of Dougherty county, mistaking it for eye lotion, put red carboline acid into her child's eye, who may lose its sight.

A special from Grand Rapids, Mich., of the 28th, states that 2,500 people were compelled to leave their homes by boats on account of the heavy rains recently.

So far, Judge Simmons has received the endorsement of every county in the state. This is as it should be, for he has discharged his duties ably and satisfactorily.

We feel confident that there are candidates for office in this county subject to the democratic primary that are not now democrats nor never have been. All such should be moved under.

We've had the democratic ticket in type for the primary in this county and it contains the names of forty candidates including governor, state house officers and congressional aspirants.

Chief Justice Simmons is too fine a jurist, too pure a man and too good a soldier, says the North Georgia Citizen, for the people of Georgia to think of removing from the supreme bench, however fine a man he is that wants the chief justiceship.

The late republican convention in Atlanta was enough to disgust every white republican in Georgia. It was no lily white meeting by any means, as there were about two negroes to every white man, and the former got their share of the delegation.

J. S. Turner is the present chairman of the prison commission. He is a candidate for reelection and from what we learn from those who are personally acquainted with the gentleman in Dahlonega, he should succeed in his efforts. Mr. Turner has performed his duties to the satisfaction of all, and what more could be asked of him?

Judge Kimsey of this circuit, held court in Banks county last week for Judge Russel, and this is the kind of a compliment the Commerce News pays him: "Judge Kimsey's charge to the Grand Jury was one of the best we have ever heard. As a presiding officer he is a model. He is positive but kind. While protecting the rights of citizens in meeting out justice to violators of law, he at the same time manifests a disposition to save the criminal. Taking all in all we regard him as a model judge."

Among the republican executive committee of the 9th district of Georgia, is a negro shoemaker at Gainesville. He can peg shoes and at the same time lay plans for the white race of his party to be governed by. White people of Georgia, why do you mix and mingle with these negroes any longer? Change and join a white man's party, so you can vote for your friends and neighbors. Don't stick to this party just because you hold an office under the present administration, or expect to get one. The negroes stick to each other and most certainly intelligent white people should learn to do the same.

Neither Populist or Democratic Doctrine.

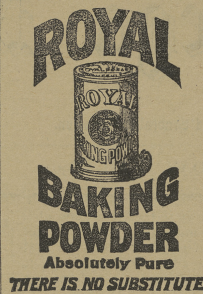

A while before the meeting of the democratic executive committee of Lumpkin county we stated in THE NUGGET that Mr. Carl Shultz, candidate for the legislature in this county, was reported as saying to a gentleman in substance that he believed a man could vote in the primary and if he didn't get his choice he could leave the nominated persons name blank at the final election and not violate any obligation, yet Mr. Shultz said in his platform of last week that he "is as sound a democrat, so far as my knowledge teaches me as there is in the democratic party today." Mr. Shultz informed us that he didn't remember making the assertion. We state to you that he did say it and we are able to procure a sworn affidavit that he did, naming all parties present at the time. In addition to this, Mr. Shultz in a conversation with Mr. John Moore, after the executive meeting was held showed by his actions that he was very much displeased because his friend, Capt. F. M. Williams, failed to get the paragraph in the democratic resolutions prohibiting republicans from voting in the democratic primary struck out. If Mr. Shultz "is as sound a democrat as there is in the democratic party," why did he oppose the door being closed to republicans in a democratic primary? Answer: Because he has republican friends in this county who will vote for him if the way is open to them.

Mr. Shultz says that he "was once a populist." We were once but never heard of any such doctrine as the above in the populist, democratic or any other party. Not even the "know-nothings." What we have said has been done in a perfect good humor. Personally we like Mr. Shultz. He is a good, nice, intelligent young man, who has a bright future before him, provided that he does not get his politics mixed up too much. We will admit that Mr. Shultz is very forgetful. So much so that he failed to return his state and county taxes to the receiver last year, and they are on the back of the receiver's book, entered by his warm friend Mr. M. J. Williams. Mr. Williams may answer as Mr. Shultz's advisor here and keep him correctly shown up, but he can't do it for him in the legislature should he be elected, for every tub has to stand on its own bottom there, and if a fellow gets on the back of the book in the legislature his county goes misrepresented.

He says that he has practically been a citizen of Lumpkin county since 1897. Why is it then that his name doesn't appear on the tax digest before 1900? Consider these things carefully. Four years ago his opponents, Col. Huff and Bryson, helped to organize the democratic party and helped to work for it, and Mr. Shultz couldn't be persuaded to vote in the primary. Let us seriously consider this matter for a few minutes. Now when a man is so careless and forgetful as to fail to return his state and county taxes after the receiver has given notice in his county paper for two or three months and the gentleman a weekly reader of the same, how can he be expected to accomplish any thing, admitting that he is a true democrat, saying nothing of his bad recollection of what he said concerning persons voting in the primary only a few weeks ago, should he be elected to the legislature? This is food for thought and we don't ask for all to speak at once.

As stated before, what we have said about Mr. Shultz is through no enmity. Neither is it because he is running the Signal in opposition to us, for he only has it leased and its owner wants to sell it to us—giving us the preference to all others, and it may be that we will own that paper in a few months.

IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

CARTER TATE.

Why Should Lumpkin County Support Him?

By reason of his present position in congress, as the leading democrat on the committee on Mines and Mining. Carter Tate is where he can probably do more to stimulate the mining industry than either of his opponents. He has introduced a bill and it has already passed the committee whereby a School of Mines will be located here in Dahlonega. It would be run by appropriation made by the government and its connection with the North Georgia Agricultural College. The direct effect would be to double the attendance and the usefulness of the college, to create the best kind of a market for our farmers to sell their produce, to cause thousands of dollars to be annually spent here, to turn the attention of mining investors here, because a school would tend necessarily to a development of our mineral resources. Our miners would be given employment at home and the necessity of their going to the death-pits of Alabama would be avoided. Mr. Tate's position would immensely help us in this matter. Why not vote for him? Certainly neither of his opponents could do better and they could not now do as well.

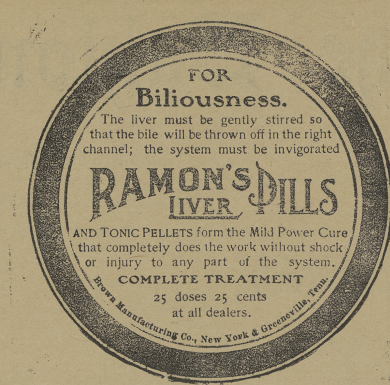

Gentlemen, we have been a populist, but since returning to the democratic party, matters not how hungry we might be for an office we could not ask democrats to vote for us in preference to one who has always been a democrat and stuck right square to the old party in time of need, yet it is being done by leading democrats right here in Dahlonega—even for parties who have heretofore fought the primary and made independent races. Shove out life long democrats and give their places to new converts. It is wrong, and has a tendency to cripple the democratic party that will cause negro Rucker in Atlanta to dress up in a smile as large as a broad axe. Don't do it.

One candidate for congress seems to be trying to joke his way in. Another seems to be tin-panning or brass banding his way in, but Carter Tate is standing on his record and getting the votes. Jokes are all right and brass bands and side shows are too, in their place, but when a fellow wants to go to congress he needs something better than either. The folks are not to be led off by jokes and brass bands.

It is reported that "Shotgun" Walker, who is a candidate for the office of county treasurer subject to the action of the democratic party, stated at some time that he voted for a republican president and democratic local officers. Is this so? We are working for the democratic party is why we ask the question.

The report last week that Col. Bryson, a candidate for the legislature, would withdraw from the race, was "knocked in the head" when the gentleman walked up and paid his assessment, since, being the first candidate in Lumpkin county to do this.

There is not a single candidate for coroner in Lumpkin county this time.

FOR SALE BY DR. C. H. JONES.

It was reported that if Sheriff Davis was defeated in the primary that he would make an independent race for sheriff. His signature under the proper heading elsewhere proves this to be false.

A north Georgia farmer who raises a lot of Irish potatoes in packing the same for shipment lost his pocket knife. He always plants eastern potatoes. This year in opening a barrel of extra fine eastern (!) potatoes for which he had paid a fancy price, he found his knife. You can figure out how it happened.—West Point News.

To the democrats.—Don't you believe that some of you are making a big mistake by supporting new recruits to the democratic party for office in preference to those who have stuck to it all through life? It's true that we welcome them, but wouldn't it be best for the party to let them be with it in time of peace awhile longer? Take them in on probation, like the Methodist church used to do new converts. By doing this it will strengthen the party. But offering a man an office just to get him to return or join it, is a bad example, and will eventually injure the democratic party, because if some of these new converts fail to get an office this time they will never utter a word in behalf of the democratic party any more. It's the office that some of them want and they are not particular how they get it. Why didn't they talk democracy before they expected to announce for office? If you have a fruit tree that has always borne good fruit are you going to cut it down to give place to a faulty producer?

At a mass meeting of the democrats of Habersham county the following resolution was passed, which we most heartily endorse, wishing that there was time enough before the primary in Lumpkin county to call a mass meeting for this purpose: That all candidates for senator, representative and county offices shall, on or before the 10th day of April 1904, subscribe their name to the following pledge, to-wit: I, ——— a candidate for the democratic nomination for ——— of Habersham county, hereby obligate and bind myself not to use any money, liquor or paid workers during the campaign or at the polls, and hereby agree that in the event I violate any of the conditions of this obligation, that no vote cast for me in the primary election to be held in said county, shall be counted—hereby agreeing to all the conditions passed by resolutions of the democratic mass-meeting and the executive committee of said county, as touching a violation of this pledge.

The communication against Mr. Tom Ward, candidate for sheriff, we refuse to publish on account of its length and personal nature. As far as Mr. Ward being unable to read and write, and that Mr. Fulton Williams will be his deputy if elected, we do not know. The law gives any sheriff a right in this or any other county in Georgia, to appoint a deputy if he deems it necessary.

Notice to Candidates.

Candidates in Lumpkin county as well as those aspiring for congress in the 8th district, are requested to send in their assessments made by the democratic executive committee at its last meeting, by the 10th day of April, otherwise their names will be left off the ticket.

JOHN H. MOORE, Chm'n.

In the announcement of Mr. Bryan for tax receiver it is M. R. Bryan instead of "M. A." as appeared heretofore. In other words it is Martin Bryan.

Wanted: 50 Men and Women.

Dr. C. H. Jones, the enterprising druggist, is advertising today for fifty men and women to take advantage of the special half-price offer he is making on Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and get a fifty cent package at half-price, 25 cents.

So positive is he of the remarkable power of this specific to cure these diseases, as well as sick headaches and liver troubles, that he agrees to refund the money to any customer whom this medicine does not quickly relieve and cure.

With Dr. Howard's specific at hand you can eat what you want and have no fear of ill consequences. It strengthens the stomach, gives perfect digestion, regulates the bowels, creates an appetite, and makes life worth the living.

This is an unusual opportunity to obtain 60 doses of the best medicine ever made for half its regular price, with the personal guarantee of a well known business man to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

If you cannot call at Dr. Jones' store today, send him 25 cents by mail, and he will send you a package, promptly, charges paid.

Dr. Jones has been able to secure only a limited supply of the specific, so great is the demand, and you should not delay taking advantage of the liberal offer he is making this week.

While out hauling rails last week Mr. Irvin Seabolt of this county, had the misfortune to get one of his legs broken by the team running away and turning the wagon over on him.

It is reported that Will Jones got on the way path up in Chestate district Sunday night after taking on a whole lot of mean liquor and fired his pistol off a time or two in his fathers house.

The students of the college certainly like and respect Maj. Tillson. This fact was made known last week on account of the demand for copies of THE NUGGET containing a short sketch of his life.

Col. W. P. Price's time as a member of the board of education expires at the coming term of Lumpkin Superior court. The Colonel has been a faithful worker in the interest of education, accomplished much good and it is hoped that he will give his consent to serve another term, for his place cannot be filled by a man in Lumpkin county that will take the interest that he has.

We attended a singing at the Baptist church at this place last Sunday. The pieces sang without the use of the organ were most beautiful and the occasion was enjoyed by every one present, especially was it so with the pretty young lady and handsome young man who spent the time in exchanging soft mellow words in the nature of love. She chewed the end of her little finger and he gnawed off one corner of a song book while unable to think of any thing to say.

We are glad to state that our friend Mr. J. B. Housley has received notice that his state pension for services rendered in the civil war has been allowed, beginning next year. The all day singing up at Oak Grove church was well attended and a very enjoyable occasion. During the time a tramp came along dirty, ragged and hungry, who claimed that he was a minister from Virginia. But if he was the Lord had lost sight of him for awhile, else the man had neglected to ask for what he wanted. Any way, they let him preach in the church and being well educated like most of tramps, the stranger interested all present, even to the candidates, for more than an hour.

The opening of our mail matter received through the postoffice still continues and we are growing tired of it. Last Friday we were busy and didn't go to the office for what we call the noon mail until 4 o'clock. A physician had sent us a little sample bottle of medicine for weak eyes. (Don't tell the ladies.) It was enclosed in a little box screwed together, rolled up in a paper and placed in an envelope with the required amount of postage. The whole thing had been opened and even the stopper examined. If it had been a devil machine the medicine person would have gotten his light put out, and we wouldn't have cared much if he had. Ours is not the only mail that has been meddled with.

Capt. J. W. Abbott of Denver, Colorado, has been here this week to examine the Battle Branch property, belonging to Thos. R. Lombard.

Cashier Bruce Crawford is hobbling about with a stick on account of a severe attack of rheumatism, yet he has been able to attend to his duties at the bank.

D. O. Johnson keeps a full line of all kinds of goods, priced low enough to make it of much interest to the purchaser. Besides this he will pay cash for eggs and chickens, allowing you a good price. Be sure and call if you are in search of bargains.

Our columns show twenty-six announcements for different offices. This is a very good showing for a small county like Lumpkin. Oh what a nice thing it is to live in a land where people are willing to sacrifice everything in order to serve the "dear people."

From what we learn, an effort is being made to have Postmaster Gurley, at Gaddistown, removed from the office. Several charges have been preferred against him. One is that he keeps different time to that at this end of the mail line and has had contractor, M. J. Williams, fined several times for not having the mail to reach there by his time, on account of enmity towards him. It is impossible for any mail contractor to comply with the law when the time at either end differs from fifteen to twenty minutes. This is why a post-office inspector has been here several days this week. He is making an investigation.

Two negroes, Nelus Goodlock and Silverster Early, were up before Mayor Baker last Thursday. A few days ago a couple of negro musicians from Gainesville, spent several days in Dahlonega picking a banjo and singing, among other songs, "Chicken, you Don't Roost too High for me!" These two had learned this favorite song of theirs and were up at the colored church last Sunday night singing "Chicken, you Don't Roost too High for me" while the congregation was carrying on its religious services with an old favorite hymn. The Chicken and the religious song didn't rhyme well together and the Mayor, in order to make up the deficiency, fined them two and cost each—about $12.90 for their chicken song.

Mr. W. P. Gillispie, who lives in Banks county, writes interestingly about THE NUGGET, Judge Kinsey and Judge Simmons: "You will find enclosed one dollar for THE NUGGET for another year. I just can't do without it. It is a welcome visitor at my house. I haven't any news from our county. Last week I saw court week and Judge J. J. Kinsey sat in Judge R. B. Russell's place, as the latter is a candidate for chief justice. Court only lasted three days. Judge Kinsey is a quiet easy judge, giving perfect satisfaction to all, (except those he fined and no one would like that), though he made a fine record. I was sorry to hear he was sick when he left Homer Thursday morning, but he is better now. As to R. B. Russell for chief justice, I think he will get left, as there never has been a chief justice went from judge of the Superior court to that office, although Judge Russell has a fine record. I remember Judge Simmons sitting one week in Dahlonega, about 1854 or 5. He has a fine record also. I will close, as this may worry your patience. Wishing you and the readers of THE NUGGET a happy year of prosperity and success."

Lumpkin Superior Court.

I am authorized to state that the April term, 1904, of Lumpkin Superior court will convene as usual, on the third Monday in April, and that after organizing the court and transacting such business as can be done on that day the court will adjourn over to the fourth Monday in April. No criminal business will be tried on the third Monday, and therefore people having business only on criminal side need not attend court until the fourth Monday in April, to-wit: April 25. The reason the court will be convened at all on the third Monday is because the law does not permit any other course.

Death of Mrs. Brittain.

Mrs. Martha Brittain, wife of Judge J. C. Brittain of this place, died at the residence of her son, Judge J. B. Gaston, at Gainesville, last Friday at 11:10 o'clock, at the age of 72. She had been in bad health for some time and had gone down to her sons with the hopes that a change might improve her, but was attacked by pneumonia, which resulted in her death. The deceased was one of our oldest citizens. She was born in Dawson county, which used to be a part of Lumpkin, in the year 1832, and was a daughter of Henry Kenedy, who was well known to some of our older citizens. Her first husband was John Gaston, who died many years ago and was buried at Auraria, Ga. Was married to Judge Brittain in 1856. She had been a member of the Dahlonega Baptist church for forty or fifty years and no person in the community had more friends than Mrs. Brittain. After religious services were conducted by both the Presbyterian and Baptist ministers of Gainesville, her remains were interred in the cemetery of that place, in the presence of a large concourse of people. The dirt on her grave could not be seen for the many beautiful flowers that were sent from friends in that city, Atlanta and Savannah.

Death of a Good Woman.

The Easley (S. C.) Progress, of March 16, contains the obituary of Mrs. Jane Hutchins, who was for many years a resident of our town, but for the past fifteen years or more, has been living at Easley, in South Carolina, near to which place she was born and reared, and where she married Rev. Jonathan W. Hutchins, pastor of the Dahlonega church for quite a number of years, just following the Civil war. Many of our older citizens will remember her as one of the most active christian workers among the church people at Dahlonega. Her husband was a cultured scholar and consecrated christian minister, who passed to his reward more than a decade of years ago, at Easley, where he then made his home. The good these people accomplished here, and elsewhere, in their lives, is still remembered and often recalled. Mrs. Hutchins was 66 years old when she died.

Her pastor says of her: "She was one of the most exemplarily christians it has ever been our privilege to know. Her unselfish and self-sacrificing spirit was manifest in a long life of work for the happiness of others. A large concourse of people assembled at the M. E. church, where beautiful music was rendered by the Presbyterian choir, and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. W. Hiett, her former pastor. She had been a christian from early youth, and a member of the First Baptist church at Easley, for many years. Scarcely could you see a dry eye as the choir sang: "Sleep on, beloved; sleep and take thy rest, Lay down thy head upon thy Saviour's breast, We loved thee well, but Jesus loves thee best, Good night, good night, good night!"

Mining Notes.

As there is nothing special to report in mining circles this week except at the Jumbo, we will give you the following report for March made by Mr. Fry, which we consider of much importance as it is only the development work, taken in connection with his reports heretofore made, is such a clear demonstration of the value and merits of the mine "that the wayfarer man, though he be a fool, cannot err therein." Mr. Fry's experience in the West—having for two years been superintendent of the famous Homestake mines—and his experience in milling, mining and engineering in this county, should and does give his statements and opinions a value that is hard to over estimate. He insists that as far as his investigation has been carried the Jumbo will compare favorably with the best and far exceeds some of the great mines of the world.

MONTHLY REPORT ON MINE.

BIG SAND VEIN.
The drift on this ore body has been advanced 28 feet since last report, making in all a distance of 118 in open cut and tunnel along the vein. The ore still continues of the same character and value. I have made hundreds of pan tests on this immense body of ore and it has never failed to give a result of not less than $2.00 per ton and from that on up to $4.00 per ton. We have now about 250 tons of ore on the dump taken out of open cut and drift by two hands in two months. The shape we have this one, of our many veins, will enable us to keep ten stamps running day and night with two hands from it alone. I took an average sample of the entire ore body and dump, which was assayed by Mr. Eldridge of the Betz mine. This sample gave a return of $2.40 per ton. According to this we have at least $600.00 worth of ore on this dump alone at this time.

MISTLETOE VEIN.

Since the last report a new ore body has been located 25 feet east of this vein, designated as Mistletoe vein No. 2. This vein is of the same character as No. 1, being 18 about inches wide. One foot of this will assay $40.00 per ton. We have cut this vein 20 feet under ground, with a cross cut from tunnel that cut No. 1. The vein still continues to hold its value and width at this level. We have driven out and tunnel 75 feet to cut Mistletoe No. 1 at a depth of 55 feet. We have good indications of being in close proximity to it, and expect to reach in ten or fifteen feet. We will then drift for No. 2 at same level. We have just opened up another vein on hill above mill site. This shows to be four feet thick and pans to be worth from $8.00 to $40.00 per ton. This can be dumped dry right into mill from hill side. The vein is further east than any yet opened up on the property, showing ore belt to be over 900 feet wide.

Respectfully,
W. B. Fry.

Notice to County Officers.

The finance committee of Lumpkin county will convene on the 2d Monday of the present month (a week earlier than common on account of the primary) and all county officers are respectfully requested to have their books and papers ready for inspection on that day so the committee can commence and continue its work and get through without any delay.
Respectfully,
W. B. TOWNSEND, Chm'n.

Spain, Mississippi, Oct. 17, 1902.

I have suffered greatly with indigestion, constipation, also a severe liver trouble, with loss of appetite. Could not rest well at night, in fact had no energy to work or even walk around. I felt like I was packing a heavy load and was easily exhausted, until I took Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, which helped me almost from the first dose. When I had taken one and one-half bottles I felt like a different man and I knew that it was due entirely to your medicine. I used it all three bottles, and consider myself perfectly cured. At this time my appetite is good, I sleep well, and feel strong and refreshed on arising in the morning.

If you need a medicine write today for a free sample bottle and "Dr. Thacher's Health Guide" (a large pamphlet) for free. We will send you to try it at our expense. We know what it will do. At all druggists. 50 cents and $1.00.

Matrimonial Catechism.

What is marriage?

Marriage is an institution for the blind.

Why do some people never marry?

Because they do not believe in divorce.

When a man thinks seriously of marriage, what happens?

He remains single.

Does a girl ever think of anything but marriage?

Only that and how to get married.

Should a man marry a girl for her money?

No; but he should not let her become an old maid because she is rich.

Is an engagement as good as marriage?

It's better.

How can we tell when a courtship has progressed?

When the man takes to yawning in the girl's presence.

When two twin people become engaged, what happens?

They immediately grow very thick.

When a man has popped the question, is he finished?

No; he has yet to question Pop.

Why does a bride wear a veil?

So that she may conceal her satisfaction.

When a man marries, has he seen the end of trouble?

Yes, but it is usually the wrong end.

Do married women suffer in silence?

Yes; they all suffer when they may not talk.

When a man says he can manage his wife, what does he mean?

He means that he makes her do anything she wants to.

Is it possible for a married man to be a fool without knowing it?

Not if his wife is alive.

What is a mother-in-law?

See Gen. Sherman's definition of war.—Joseph Van Haften, in New York Times.

Living and Working.

Few people outside of hoboes and Indians not taxed really live without working.

Those who work without really living are much more numerous, including, as they do, millionaires and seamstresses with more than six small children.

In the perfect day, when the lion and the lamb shall walk together and the rich shall go down to the college settlements and play bridge with the poor, we shall all doubtless both live and work.—Life.

Labor Saving Device.

"Yes," said the boarding school teacher, "I think that is a model letter for you to write your fiancé. But of course you will copy it, leaving out those numerous spaces?"

Excess of Attention.

"Did her father show you the door?"

"He did better than that. He showed me the door, the front gate and the corner drug store two blocks away."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In contributing money for the erection of a large fine marble monument for dead prominent men of the civil war we should look around at the crippled soldiers who are in needy circumstances and supply their wants before wasting money for a big piece of marble to be put up in some city that benefits no one except those erecting it.

HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep home without Thedford's Black-Draught. I have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES L. HARRIS, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves distressing pains, frees the congested bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys.

No DOCTOR

Is necessary in the home where Thedford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colic, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhoea, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

On Voting.

What consideration should control the people in electing men to fill important offices? Did you ever stop to consider this question?

Some voters seem to think they should vote for a candidate for governor, congress or judge simply because they like the man, or because the other fellow has held the office long enough. "We frequently hear men say, 'Well, I know Mr. So-and-So is an able man and a pure man and makes a good officer, but I think we should let somebody else have the office awhile.'"

Evidently such a man is not being controlled by the right considerations.

Our idea is that public office is a public trust, and that public officers should be regarded as servants of the people. If the people find a man of superior fitness to represent them in any sphere of public life they have a right to make demands upon him, and it is his duty, as a patriotic citizen, to continue to represent them, even though such service necessitates a personal sacrifice of his part. There are many such men in our country. Hoke Smith gave up a law practice which was paying him $10,000 a year to accept a place in President Cleveland's cabinet at $8,000 a year. There is not a member of the Georgia delegation in congress, that is fit for the place, that could not make more than $5,000 a year in another field of labor. There is not a supreme court judge or a superior court judge who is not able to make twice the amount he receives as a salary. All men are not controlled by the love of filthy lucre.

In casting our votes let us look at the fitness and the characters of the candidates. We are not to elect them because they desire the offices. We are to elect them for our own benefit, and we have a right to demand the purest and most competent men to serve us. Because a man is in office is no reason why he should be kept there—in fact, if his character is bad or he is incompetent, he should be retired and a good, competent man put in his place. On the other hand, if a public servant has proven himself faithful and competent, the people have a right to demand a continuation of his services in their behalf, and should not fail to make that demand.—Alpharetta Free Press.

Who is Best Fitted?

A Hall county correspondent last week takes this view of the race for Congress in the 9th district and writes as follows:

"Now that the race for Congress between Mr. Tate, Dr. Watkins and Mr. Bell is fairly launched, it is well enough to take a calm view of the situation to see which man represents the best interests of the 9th Congressional district and which one can be of most service not only to the Democratic party in Congress but to the individual members of the Democratic party of the 9th Congressional district at home.

Mr. Bell claims the support of Hall county on the idea that the county should vote for a home man, but it will doubtless be remembered that when Col. Perry ran for Congress six years ago Mr. Bell did not recognize this rule, but was found supporting Mr. Tate and pressing his peculiar fitness for the place in preference to any one else; also when Col. Thompson ran four years ago Mr. Bell was found closely advocating the return of Mr. Tate to Congress, stating that it was necessary for a man to be in Congress several years before he could render perfect service. Now, that Mr. Bell is running, the question naturally arises, cannot Mr. Tate render more effective service to the people of the 9th Congressional district on account of his high standing upon the important committees in Congress.

Only last year he secured an appropriation of Five thousand dollars to purchase a Post Office site in Gainesville, and he now has a bill pending in Congress appropriating One Hundred Thousand Dollars for the purpose of erecting a Post Office building, and it seems to me that it would be unwise to turn him out before this bill is acted on in Congress.

The record that Mr. Tate in Congress is unassailable and one that any member might justly be proud of, and it does seem to me that the attack on him that some of the watermelon seed that he sent out did not come up is a low kind of campaigning.

What is the brass band for? Does Mr. Bell expect to win votes by sounds alone and after he gets elected does he expect to carry the brass band to Washington? It is the first instance in the history of the 9th Congressional district that any candidate has attempted to run a campaign on this line, and we do not believe that he will capture many substantial votes by such means.

Let us throw aside "brass bands," "watermelon seed" and the "clap trap" and weigh the candidates on their merits and whichever is best qualified to serve the people, let us send.

Editor Whole Push.

Says a knowing writer: "An editor is a millionaire without money, a congressman out of a job, a king without a throne. He constructs without hammer or saw, builds a railroad without rails or spikes, and farms without a plow. He runs a butcher shop in the journalistic world and deals out brains for cash or credit. He loves those who advertise with him as a brother. The editor is a teacher, a lawyer, a preacher; he sends forth truth to save souls and gets lost himself. He heals the wounded, cures for the dying, rescues the perishing, and then starves himself when a ham sandwich of kindness would jerk him from the jaws of death."

MORMON SMITH'S MEMOIR.

It is Better Than That of Brigham Young.

Although President Smith was somewhat in doubt as to the number of children his wife had given birth to since the manifesto, I am told by good Mormons that he has a remarkable memory for names and faces and is even Brigham Young's superior in that respect.

The man who promulgated the polygamy revelation could not enumerate the names of all his children, but President Smith is said to be able to call each of his children by name, and, more than that, his relations with the entire forty-three are as intimate as are those of the father who has only four or five youngsters. A good Mormon is my authority for these statements.

And by the way, a story told on Brigham Young is being charged up to President Smith. This little tale is so good that it is worth repeating. It seems that one day Brigham was walking down Main street when he saw three small boys smoking cigarettes on a street corner.

The president stopped short. Singling out the cigarette smoker he said:

"Little boy, don't you know that it is wicked to smoke those nasty cigarettes? What would your mother and father say if they were to see you now?"

The boy looked up in the speaker's face in astonishment.

"Don't you know me, pa?" he shouted, as his eye flashed fire.

Brigham cut his sermon short and passed on.—From the Salt Telegram.

A level-headed old bachelor was Alderman Waters of Toledo, who died the other day. It appears that he had three sweethearts, either of whom he loved well enough to marry. But he was deterred from becoming a Benedict through fear that the two sweet hearts who must necessarily have been disappointed would bring suits for breach of promise. So he remained a bachelor, and at his death bequeathed to each of three the sum of $10,000.

A curious sight was witnessed at Goodland, Kansas, the other day, according to the Kansas City Journal. A Rock Island house containing 750 tons of ice caught fire and entirely burned away, leaving the huge pile of ice standing stark and grim against the scenery. It is said that the ice pile melted only around the edges. In the contest of elements fire couldn't win.

A Lonely Sentry.

A lonely sentry, pacing his beat along a river bank during the civil war, sang softly to himself, "Jesus Lover of My Soul." A sharpshooter across the narrow river saw and heard him. He took aim and was about to fire, when he heard these words, "cover my defenseless head with the shadow of thy wing." His rifle dropped, and the sentry lived. Years afterwards they met. "When I saw you that night," said the sharpshooter smiling as you walked, I determined to kill you, but when I heard you cry, cover my defenseless head, I could have soon shot my mother.

The spirit of God that prompted the sentry's hymn unmoved the hand and lowered the rifle of the intended destroyer. God was near that man, though he knew it not, and his unseen presence, mightier than a bastion of steel, shielded his life from harm. More wonderful still, he made him wait thirty years before letting him find it out.—Christian Observer.

Soldiers who served in the Spanish-American and Philippine wars, have been misinformed as to their rights to the two months extra pay under the recent decision of the comptroller of the treasury department. It is not true that each and every soldier who served in said wars is entitled. The decision gives no additional rights to soldiers who enlisted in state organizations, that they did not already possess, nor to soldiers of the regular army, the latter not being entitled to the said two months extra pay, unless they enlisted after April 21, 1898, and before Oct. 26, 1898, and who were discharged prior to Jan. 1, 1900, and whose service was "honest and faithful."

Neatness is a good thing for a girl; if she does not learn it when she is young, she never will. It takes more neatness to make a girl look well than it does to make a boy look passable, not because a boy, to start in with, is better looking than a girl, but his clothes are a different kind, not so many colors in them, and people don't expect a boy to look so pretty. A girl that is not neatly dressed is called a sloven, and no one likes to look at her. Her face may be pretty and her eyes bright, but if there is a spot of dirt on her cheeks and her fingers are black and her apron is dirty and her skirt is torn she can't be liked. Learn to be neat and when you learn it will take care of itself.—Ex.

Somehow or other the man who never reads the newspapers always manages to see any complimentary reference to himself.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 9, 1904.

Printed at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Democrats, don't forget to register.

Chief Justice Simmons has held many important positions and has never been defeated before the people.

Judge Parker seems to be in the lead so far for presidential honors. He is a strong man and will make it warm for the republicans.

You will see from an official notice elsewhere that Lumpkin Superior Court has been postponed until the 4th Monday.

A correspondent of the Atlanta News, from Jackson says that it is believed Carter Tate will carry that county by a large majority in the primary.

Dr. Watkins withdrew from the race for congress in this district last week. The Doctor is a fine man and may, one of these days, be our congressman.

Miss Ellen O'Conner of Atlanta, a sister of Mrs. Sallie Meaders of Dahlonega, was drowned while on a pleasure trip to Florida this week, together with several other ladies.

After the first day of July there will be a mail from Yaboola via. Tube three times a week. This will give the people in that section an opportunity of getting The Nugget the same day it is published.

Mr. A. L. Jackson requested us to state that he is a democrat and will stick to the nominees in the final election if he is defeated in the primary. This completes the list. All the candidates in this county have signed this obligation. Of course several will be defeated and we hope that every one will stick—go right up to the polls at the final election and carry out this obligation.

Last week an effort was made by some of the political enemies of Col. Huff to get his two opponents to withdraw from the legislative race and put up Capt. F. M. Williams of Two-Rio. But after an investigation they soon found that this wouldn't take well as Capt. Williams endeavored to get the clause in the democratic resolutions prohibiting republicans from voting in the primary left out. And in addition to this it is reported that Captain Williams says if he does not get his choice in the primary that he is not going to vote against his friends in the election. If this be true the Captain is not as strong a democrat as Mr. Shultz, with all his democratic weakness, has pledged himself to stick to the nominees.

From reports from all parts of the county it looks as if Tate will receive seventy-five per cent of the total vote for congress. This is as it should be. Carter Tate has ever been faithful to Lumpkin county. No demand has ever been made upon him that he has not responded. He has looked after our private interests. He has appointed our people in receiving appointments wherever possible. He has contributed to our institutions. But above all he has worked and voted for the interests of our people. Whenever Lumpkin county has wanted anything Tate could always be relied on for help. It was thought a few weeks ago that he possibly had not been active for rural free delivery; but investigation showed that he had not only done everything in his power, not only that he looked after our interests most carefully, but that in fact he had accomplished more in this respect than any other congressman in this state. This information came direct from the department. We congratulate our county that our people are giving Tate such hearty support.

Mr. Shultz Cries Out "Town Ring."

Although Mr. Shultz lives or boards in Dahlonega he goes out in to the country and says there is a town ring here. By this he confesses that he is not expecting to get many votes in town. And if he fails to do well where he is known best he will not get much of a vote for the legislature where he is not known. This is the way we look at it, for people out in the country are not likely to cast their ballots for a stranger until they make some enquiry of people who know him. And he says that "Bill Price and old Townsend" belong to this town ring. Now every body in the county, except a kind of a stranger like Mr. Shultz, know that Col. Price and myself never belonged to any ring. Ah, this is a weak manner of electioneering, such as generally comes from a scared candidate. The people in Dahlonega have a right to a choice of the three candidates. The other two aspirants have been democrats all their lives, while Mr. Shultz hasn't. He never even intimated that he expected to join the democrats until he took a notion that he might be able to get an office through the democratic party, that we have been able to learn, and but very little democratic talk has yet fallen from his lips that has reached our ears. The Signal under his editorial management, has been running now two months and has any body read anything in it in behalf of the democratic party? We haven't, and yet Mr. Shultz claims to be a democrat now. Why bless your life he would not write a line in the way of commending the actions of Carter Tate, yet he claimed to be his friend, for fear that it might hurt him in his race. And later when a short editorial did appear in the Signal praising our able and most worthy congressman, it was while Mr. Shultz was absent and the senior editor had to insert a notice in the paper showing that he was responsible for all the editorials and leals of that issue. And yet Mr. Shultz says he is a democrat. He may be but is too tender footed to do any good in the legislature. Just think of a man believing in the populist doctrine, running a neutral paper in politics, making a democratic race and electioneering with every republican he can find in the county. Four years ago Mr. Shultz refused to go into the primary, and two years ago if so he didn't use any influence. If he did it had no effect for many of those who voted in the primary of the district where he stayed turned right round and voted for republican and independent candidates against the democratic nominees. The way was then open to republicans in the primary and this is what they did, not only in that district but throughout the county. Nevertheless Mr. Shultz says they ought to be allowed to vote in the primary again. And in addition to this he wants the democrats to give him an office, yet he does not utter a word in his paper or in any other way that we have heard of in behalf of the democratic party.

Why doesn't he urge all the people to pull together instead of trying to create bad feelings between the town and country people. It is his duty to accomplish more good even if they do not choose to send him to the legislature. If he wants the help of the people he should not try to get up strife and discord among them. This is why we are against Mr. Shultz, and one reason Col. Price has for not supporting him is because he fought and voted against a resolution presented by the board of education asking that he and all other school teachers of this county, devote fifteen minutes in school each day in either singing, praying or reading the scriptures.

Let us—Mr. Shultz tells us that he is now talking and preaching democracy. He ought to have begun this sooner. It would have had a better effect. Like the poor old drunken man giving the boys a temperance lecture the other day. He said many interesting things and his advice was good but they wondered why he had not been practicing what he preached long ago. His words went like chaff thrown to the wind. So goes Mr. Shultz' democratic talk.

IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

Tate Endorsed in Hall County.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 5.—Today has witnessed the latest political gathering in Gainesville that has been seen in the ninth congressional district since the days of Allen Candler and Emory Speer.

The people flocked into the town this morning from all of the county of Hall and surrounding vicinity in keen anticipation of a joint debate between Congressman F. C. Tate and T. M. Bell.

Mr. Bell declined to meet Mr. Tate but left yesterday morning for Habersham, so Mr. Tate had the field to himself. The crowd met at the courthouse at 11 o'clock and organized by electing Hon. Howard Thompson chairman and W. H. Craig secretary.

Mr. Thompson then in a ringing speech introduced Mr. Tate, and declared that he should be re-elected and that Hall county should elect her vote for him. His speech was greeted with applause. Mr. Tate spoke for two hours and gave a satisfactory account of his stewardship and showed that he had ever been true to his people. The large court room was filled to its utmost capacity and a great many standing through the entire speech, all giving close attention to the speech and applauding the speaker on every proposition.

At the conclusion of the speech, Col. S. C. Dunlap offered the following strong resolutions endorsing Mr. Tate and pledging Hall county for him. The motion was seconded by a number of leading citizens and put to the house by the chairman and was carried by a ringing unanimous vote with the exception of one dissenting vote, that being the chairman of the Bell club.

THE RESOLUTIONS.
Resolutions endorsing Hon. F. C. Tate for re-election passed by the Hall county Democrats.

"Whereas the Honorable F. C. Tate, congressman for this district has secured an appropriation of $5,000 for the purchase of a site for a government building at this place and the land has been purchased therefor, and

"Whereas, He has introduced a bill in congress to appropriate $150,000 for the purpose of erecting a building thereon and the same is now pending before congress with flattering prospects for its passage, and

"Whereas, The long services of Mr. Tate in congress only add to his efficiency and his high standing on the minority representations on some of the leading committees of the house of representatives in congress gives him a prestige that has been well earned and to which no new member could attain until after long years of service, and

"Whereas, A mining school for the education of the young men of our section is one of the pressing needs of this community and he being the ranking Democrat on the committee on mines and mining gives Mr. Tate an advantage not easily won and hard to secure, and

"Whereas, Gainesville is the headquarters of mining section of the state, and while the proposed school will be an adjunct of the North Georgia Agricultural College at Dahlonega, it will be of incalculable benefit to us and the whole state; and

"Whereas, A free mail delivery in this city is one of the pressing demands upon us, and Mr. Tate's prestige will be of inestimable value towards securing the same; and

"Whereas, Under the industry and alertness of Mr. Tate more rural free mail delivery routes have been established than in any other district in the state, thus carrying and delivering a daily mail to the intelligent rural population and farmers in every county in the district.

"Whereas, the above recited facts outweigh all local influences, and in view of our patriotic duty, we put training efficiency and whereas above local influence, and first, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we, the people of Hall county, deem it unwise and inexpedient to make a change of congressional district at this time.

The First Campaign Guns.

The first joint debates between Col. Huff and Mr. Shultz, candidates for the legislature from our county, occurred up at Cane Creek last Saturday and the following night at Oak Grove. Some twenty voters were present at the first place and about forty at the latter. They had no brass band and the children remained away. The speakers didn't use any hot shot, only explained their platforms in a very pleasant manner.

Mr. Shultz favored one plank of the people's party platform—allowing women to vote which his opponent knocked into a cocked hat by showing that the people of this county didn't want to see their wives and daughters making their way to the polls through a crowd of drunken men.

During his discourse Mr. Shultz referred to what "old father Townsend" had said about him in a sarcastic manner. This is the only way he could for what father Townsend charges him with are facts that he cannot deny. We believe there a number of men in Lumpkin county with much more democracy about them than Mr. Shultz who won't even vote in the primary, much less ask for an office through the democratic party.

Now Mr. Shultz says that he can't see why we keep picking at him when there are candidates in the field asking for office with less democracy than he has. Their office is of much less importance than the one he is seeking. Besides they are permanent residents and well known and the democrats of Lumpkin have no notion of electing them. In addition to this they are not acquainted with populism like we are. It and democracy will no more mix here now than tar and water. We attended a state meeting in Atlanta once and there found two big black negro delegates. We returned home and quit the patch in disgust. For those reasons we don't believe the democrats of Lumpkin county have any notion of trying to hoist a populist kite with a little bit of a democratic tail, especially when the phonograph attached repeats some political doctrine that ought to be a warning.

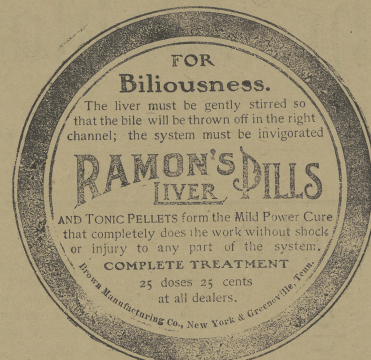

And last but not least, if Mr. Shultz has been converted and is a democrat, why does he crave for the republicans to be allowed a vote in the democratic primary.

The Gainesville Eagle has this to say about Carter Tate: "We need Tate yet. We have never yet heard a charge against Mr. Tate's loyalty and efficiency except by persons who wanted his place for either themselves or their friends. The fact is you cannot find a flaw in his record. He is one of the hardest and most experienced workers in congress today."

The Superior Court of Union county has been postponed until the 4th Monday in May on account of the prevalence of smallpox in that county.

The Gainesville Cotton Mills resumed operation last week.

Blue Ridge had a $20,000 fire on Sunday night.

Local News.

We had both frost and ice last Monday morning.

The peaches have been killed at many places in this county.

Go and examine those nice, large pictures already framed, at W. P. Price, Jr.

Appropriate Easter services were held at the churches here last Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Ricketts has purchased the house and lot adjoining Mr. E. W. Strickland from Mrs. Sallie Meaders.

Mr. Leo Pitner, who has been located in Atlanta for some time, was mingling with his many friends here last week.

Mr. John Whelchel came up last week from Anniston, Ala., to see his sick father, who we are glad to say, has recovered so as to be able to be out some.

Mr. Tom Johnson found a purse last Sunday containing a small amount of money, which the owner can get by calling on him and describing same.

Mr. Wharton Anderson of the Calhoun, came up to Dahlonga last Sunday. We like to see a gentleman who never fails to enjoy himself come to town.

While in a tunnel the other day a moccasin snake grabbed one of little Tom Hull's big toes. It is useless to say that Tom soon recovered his connection with the snake.

Messrs. Sovey and Miller of Anuraria, spent a few hours in Dahlonga last Sunday. They were in a hurry on business but some of the candidates caught them on the home stretch.

Moore Bros. have purchased the two months contract of carrying the daily mail to Gainesville on the lower line. Already having the contract on the upper route enables them to carry passengers over either line.

Some of the merchants have been opening their stores again on Sunday and the mayor requests us to give all persons notice that if it is done again that he will place a heavy fine on any one found guilty of violating the city ordinance prohibiting it.

Now since Carter Tate got his bill through congress knocking out the non resident mail contractors, for the first time in many years Lumpkin county citizens have had an opportunity of getting mail contracts direct from the department. The money is spent right here at home and will be a big help to many of our citizens. Not only to those directly interested for money is never received in a county without benefitting all.

The other day Mr. Green Abercrombie, who lives a few miles below Dahlonga, was instructed by his wife to go to Anuraria and get some salt and salts. He complied with her request and when he returned home it was about dark. Mrs. Abercrombie prepared her flour, used some of the "salt" and soon had her nice brown biscuits on the table. The husband was so hungry that he didn't wait for any one else and in less time than it takes to tell it Mr. Abercrombie had his feet under the table and a piece of a biscuit in his mouth. He commenced chewing and discovered that it tasted bad, and the more he chewed it the worse it got. However the gentleman let the bread go down with a grin. He complained, saying that he was either sick or something was wrong with the bread. Others tasted it and it made them all grin. An investigation was made of the packages the husband brought home, and what do you guess those paper sacks contained? One ten cents worth of salt and the other twelve pounds of salts and the lady had used the latter. This caused all fear to disappear and the sad face of Mr. Abercrombie changed to smiles and he laughed most heartily, although on an empty stomach, until the good lady prepared another lot of bread.

Mr. Joe Fisher died up in Chetate district last week.

The students are contemplating having an encampment in the near future. Success seems favorable.

The daily mails now leave for Gainesville at 7:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. This gives us splendid mail facilities.

Uncle Pick Gillispie. You all know him this county. Don't you? Well, he has been here this week as jolly and clever as usual.

At the Signal office last week Mr. Henry Boatfield got his hand badly mashed by the cylinder of the press running over it.

Thos. M. V. Beck lot of land sold for a debt due Dr. Baber, formerly of Dawson county, was bid off for him last Tuesday at $18.50.

Clyde Lovelace returned from Tennessee this week sick again. Alabama and Tennessee does not seem to be a healthy place for the Lumpkin county boys.

Mr. Bob Wood came up from Anuraria the other day and although he only spent a few hours here he went away with a sore hand caused by shaking it with so many candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutcheson of Freda, visited Dahlonga last Tuesday. Mr. Hutcheson is one of the gentlemen who keeps the people of Dahlonga sheltered by furnishing them with thousands of shingles.

Mr. W. J. Burt of Bartsboro, came in to look after a land sale last Tuesday. This gentleman never comes to town unless he has business and therefore is one of the most successful business men in Lumpkin county.

In mentioning our letter from Banks county last week from Mr. Gillispie, we got the initials mixed. They should have been M. W. instead of W. P. However, the two men are brothers and more clever people never lived.

Geo. Clark was lodged in jail last Monday charged with seduction by Ida Castleberry, both colored. He afterwards waived examination and made bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior court.

Mr. J. D. Whelchel, an enterprising farmer of Dawson county, was among the callers at our office last Tuesday. Mr. Whelchel is one of the members of the democratic executive committee of that county and is true to his colors.

C. B. Collins, R. Rutherford, Y. Matthews, R. Ponder, G. Stanton, O. W. Steed, J. G. Ponder, J. D. Gortatowsky left Wednesday morning to attend the annual convention of the Psi K. K. Fraternity in Atlanta on the 8th and 9th, with headquarters at the Piedmont Hotel. Mr. Gortatowsky delivered the welcome address for the state of Georgia.

Mr. Tom Bowers, who never uses liquor as a beverage, while in town the other day, told us how a person could examine corn liquor and tell whether it was watered or not, by filling a glass with the liquor and dropping a small piece of lint cotton in it. If it contains water the cotton will stay on top, and if not the cotton will soon go to the bottom.

Messrs. B. F. Anderson, J. D. Whelchel, W. D. Candler, V. S. Lusk and W. J. Burt purchased what is known as the Nimblewill copper mines in this county, at commissioners sale last Tuesday for the sum of one hundred dollars. Now these gentlemen have it in shape so as to be able to develop it and we hope the day is not far distant when they will begin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Candler of Candler, N. C., were among the visitors here this week. He was looking after some land interests he has in this county. The gentleman has been a patron of ours for a long time and continues. Mr. Candler differs with us politically but says this does not keep him from liking to read The Nugget. We trust that this lady and gentleman will come again and remain longer.

Be sure and let us know when you fail to receive your Nugget.

It will pay you to advertise in this paper. Try it and be convinced.

Some of our citizens have to buy their flooring and ceiling down at Gainesville.

Mr. N. C. Miller of Americus, Ga., was registered at Hall's Villa last Wednesday.

Mr. W. K. P. Head of this county, has been in bad head health for some time and is unable to be out of bed any scarcely.

Mr. David Jarrard, residing in the upper portion of this county, came down this week and entered his daughter in college.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle brought in a still from Union county last Sunday. It was located about a mile beyond Cooper's Gap. The operators made leg bond.

The gallery of the Dahlonga Portrait Co. will be closed June 1st until October, and those desiring any work done by this Company will have to call before June else wait until October.

Mr. E. A. Wilson of Texas, in renewing his subscription this week says: "I consider The Nugget the best local paper I ever read. Its policy is to treat all alike and it being from my home county it is always gladly received."

At the regular meeting of the city council last Monday night a sanitary board was elected for the next twelve months consisting of Drs. Whelchel, Jones and Head. The marshal reported that he had collected $217.50 as follows: Sanitary tax $124.50, street tax $80. Fines and cost $63.00.

The trustees of the N. G. A. College will not make any effort to fill the presidents place, made vacant by the death of Dr. Avis, until after commencement in June. Prof. Gaillard, the vice-president, will occupy this position until that time. Likely some one will be selected temporarily to instruct in certain studies.

On last Saturday night a week ago at about 12 o'clock, Mr. J. B. Brooksher, who resides about a mile from Dahlonga, discovered by the constant barking of his dog that some one had broken into his stable where he had three head of cattle. Mr. Brooksher after failing to get any answer to the question to who he was, pulled the trigger of his gun. The cap burst and the weapon failed to fire. Then the intruder made a break for liberty and as he came out at the door Mr. Brooksher broke his gun over him and brought the fellow to a halt with a bleeding head. When this was done the wounded person said his name was Charlie, a son of Mr. Ens Anderson who resides near Porter Springs. Mr. Brooksher then had Charlie go to the house and sleep till morning. No explanation was given. Tracks in the mud next morning showed that another person had gone as far as the fence.

Dr. E. S. Avis, president of the N. G. A. College, expired at Hall's Villa last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock after an illness of only a week of pneumonia, at the age of 48, just three hours after his wife reached his bedside from the north. The Doctor recognized his wife and was conscious almost to the last. This was one of the saddest occasions that has occurred here in many years. Although Dr. Avis had been here only since last fall he had made more friends for the same space of time than any person that every came to Dahlonga, is one reason why his death has cast such a gloom of sorrow over the entire community. A short while before his remains were started for his old home in Newark, Delaware, the casket was placed where the students could march in and take a farewell look at their beloved president. Then the body was placed in a vehicle and Prof. Barnes and eight of the cadets acted as escorts as far as Gainesville, accompanied by his personal friend, Maj. Tillson.

Mining Notes.

Some valuable mining property will soon change hands in this county.

The McAfee-Lind mill has been suspended this week on account of the breaking of a gudgeon.

The miners working at various places down at the celebrated Barlow still continue to take out ore in a profitable manner.

The lift being operated on the Columbia property by Messrs. Huff and Moose, is still in operation and they believe they have a good mine.

Capt. Ingersoll, one of the owners of the dredge boat over in the Chestatee river, informs us that they now have two or three months good work where the boat is now located. The clean up last week was splendid and many nice nuggets were found.

Mr. Miller, manager of the Briar Patch informed us while in Dahlonga the other day that things down at this mine were moving right along.

Riley and Stephens are still mining on the Findley. First of the week they had out about 25 tons taken from a good size vein which pans well enough to satisfy them that it will pay them and we feel confident they will not be deceived for they have been mining in this country for many years and thoroughly understand the business.

Up at the Jumbo work proceeds without any interruption and the ore continues fine. Mr. Hightower is moving his saw mill out on the property this week so as to begin cutting lumber for the mill and other purposes, and in a few months the stamps will commence crushing the large number of tons of ore already out on the dump.

Down at the Singleton all the miners are doing well. Superintendent Campbell with a cheerful smile this week informed us that the vein he is working for the Standard Company, still continues to give good results. Townsend, Adams and Jefferson, who have been making such good clean ups recently from ore taken from the same company's property, struck two new veins this week which look well.

In reply to some of our friends and patrons in the north concerning Crown Mountain mine we will state that all the mill has been run on full time since it last started up—the little mill and only from 20 to 35 stamps of the other for lack of power—stamps dropping only about four inches and the capacity is 16 tons. The number of hands, all told, is about 25, not including the manager. This mine cannot be expected to pay till the mill is kept running with a six inch drop of the stamps. It costs about as much to run the plant on half time as it does on full time. The force at the power plant and at the pump being the same.

The contract work on the canal at the Etowah Gold M. & M. Co's plant is completed and everything is writing for lumber. It's needed for the flumes and at the mill. The mill can be ready in a few days for work after the lumber is received. The canal is finished up to the McCleskey branch and the water will be carried from there a few rods in flumes and again flow in the canal from there to the mill. Everything is moving along in fine shape. Delays are not unusual in building and carrying on such a large amount of work as is being done at this mine.

There is no trouble in making money mining in this section when the work is performed in a legitimate business like manner, but otherwise is a failure, as is the case in all other mining camps. This fact has already been clearly demonstrated here. It is not only the case in mining but in all other enterprises. Take the mercantile business as an illustration. Sometimes a merchant with a splendid start and a good stock of merchandise will fail, and another fellow will come along, take the same stand and make a success in a little while. Bad management will ruin any kind of business.

Dr. E. S. Avis, A Man of the Past.

When men are born into the world their plain of beginning is universally the same. The standpoint from which man first approaches external things is universally one. The little babe grasps for the things around it because of its utter ignorance of the material world. It is helplessly blank, as far as knowledge is concerned, from the very beginning. But the moment it begins to breathe it begins to grow. Its faculties expand from the narrowest confines to the utmost limits of human intelligence.

So we find that human capacities vary all the way from the narrowest degree to infinity. In this marvelous expanse what a diversity of human character! Some see the world as a mission for devotion and self-sacrifice. Others see the world as an arena for personal elevation at the expense of their fellows. Some see the world as a stage where man is placed, and where it is his duty to make the best of himself by being a help to others also. The aim of these is to place self in the highest position possible, since it is only in this position that they can do the greatest good to others. They take the plain and sensible view that man is not able to give unto others until he has something within himself worth giving.

When personal efforts have brought him to a plain where he is a model to those below, then he is a beacon light, standing firm upon the shores of time, greeting the smaller vessels on to their destiny.

Within the last mentioned class belongs the late Dr. E. S. Avis, president of the North Georgia Agricultural College. Dr. Avis was in the bloom of life, having only attained the age of forty-seven. As to those who were students under him he was an inspiration. His words meant life to all who heard them.

Graduating at West Point, the early part of his life was spent as an officer in the army of the United States. But as he was disabled, later on he turned his powers toward literary and scientific investigation. He has been a zealous student in various branches for several years. As a result of his study, he had become a member of that class of scientific students whose authority is acknowledged in France, Germany and America. Their motto is reason and proof for assertions and conclusions. Without a basis in the light of truth is eliminated.

Hence he was at this stage of attainment when elected to the chair of the N. G. A. College. The trustees recognized his ability and it was with deep regret to lose him. Types of men of his mould are hard to find. The world is full of gems but those of the highest value are few and far between.

He took lagrippe about a week before, and it soon turned into pneumonia fever. When he recognized this he clearly saw that his career—to what ever height it might be graded—was soon to come to a conclusion. Being perfectly conscious till the last, he wound up his business when he was already passing away, and on Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, the threads of his life were eternally clipped from this land of mortal dreams.

JAMES F. BROACH.

Resolutions of Sympathy of Dr. Avis.

As an expression of their sorrow, the faculty, students and trustees of the college met Tuesday morning and passed resolutions of sympathy and regret at the death of Dr. Avis. It is the unanimous consent that he was one of the leading educators of the country, and the college authorities recognize that it will be difficult to secure a man to fill the position as he did. He was a broad, cheerful, and enlightened man of the modern type, and his ability was certainly admitted by all.

BY FACULTY.

We, the committee, appointed by the faculty of the N. G. A. College to draft suitable resolutions with reference to our esteemed president, Dr. E. S. Avis, whose death occurred at his place of residence in the city of Dahlonga at 1, p. m., on April the 2nd, 1904, respectfully submit the following report:

WHEREAS, God has seen proper in His unerring wisdom and kind providence to permit the removal, by death, of one of our members from the sphere of humors activities, thus serving the very pleasant and harmonious relations of president and faculty.

WHEREAS, His able and efficient services cannot henceforth be given to the institution he prized so highly, and to the education of the young people of this Southland, whose improvement and elevation he had at heart.

WHEREAS, His unexpected demise has stricken with sadness the entire faculty, student body, trustees and citizens of our town.

Be it therefore resolved,

1. That in the death of Dr. E. S. Avis, president of the N. G. A. College, the faculty has lost a wise counsellor and sympathetic collaborator, that the college has lost an able president, an earnest and efficient instructor.

2. That we extend to the wife and other relatives sympathy in their sad bereavement.

3. That, while our hearts are grieved, we bow in humble submission to the decree of God who doeth all things well.

4. That, in token of our profound sorrow, and of our respect for the distinguished dead, the flag of the college remain at half mast during the memorial exercises to be held on this day, that the halls of the institution be draped in mourning and that the regular college exercises be suspended for the day.

5. That this preamble and resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the faculty; that a copy of the same be furnished the wife of the deceased, and the same be published in the papers of our city.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSE W. CLARK.

J. C. MOORE.

J. W. BOYD.

BY FRATERNITY.

Whereas, The Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to deprive us of our beloved president, Dr. E. S. Avis, and Whereas, we the members of Psi Chapter, Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, have suffered an incalculable loss for which there is no recompense in that the college has suffered a loss, and our welfare is linked together with his welfare.

Be it resolved that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved wife and relatives and to the college.

Be it furthermore resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent for publication to THE DAHLONGA NUGGET and Dahlonga Signal and to the Dahlabnekan, and that a copy be sent to his bereaved wife.

DO YOU NEED A MEDICINE?

IT ASKS YOU NOTHING TO INVESTIGATE.

There is no one who does not need a Liver Medicine occasionally. The symptoms of Liver Complaint are well known to every one, such as constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, sleeplessness, headache, a tired feeling and many others of a similar nature. Thousands die annually by not heeding the warnings of nature.

Many acquire some chronic disease from which they never recover. Many of these could be spared for years of usefulness, by keeping in the home some reliable remedy.

We believe that we can convince any fair-minded person that there is no better remedy for the Liver known, than Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup. The formula is known, consisting of: Buchu, Hydrangea, Mandrake, Yellow Dock, Dandelion, Sarsaparilla, Gentian, Senna and Iodine of Potassium. You know just what you are taking. How many other formulas of a liver medicine are published? Ask your druggist about this. It is already prepared and can be taken immediately.

The strength is extracted in the most skillful manner, certainly superior to any powdered preparation known. (We also manufacture a Liver Medicine in powdered form, with which any druggist can supply you, but this is like all other dry Liver Medicines requires preparation.)

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is pleasant to take, does not lose its strength, as Liver Medicine in dry form, and will keep in any climate.

Your doctor, however skillful, could prescribe nothing better. There is no opportunity for a doctor to make a mistake in writing a prescription, or a drug clerk to make a mistake in compounding the same, (besides a doctor's bill and the loss of time to the patient.) You can be absolutely sure of the proper proportion being in every dose.

Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup has been used with the greatest confidence and success in thousands of homes for 68 years, and is prepared by a pharmacist of 25 years' experience, in a laboratory equipped with the most modern appliances for the most perfect safety.

If you do not understand the value of this medicine, write for a free sample bottle and "Dr. Thacher's" will send you one. We simply ask that you give it a fair trial. We know what it will do.

A NERVOUS WAIT.

Weird Sensation When the Church Became Totally Dark.

"I went to Fifth Avenue church last Sunday night," said a man who is good once a week, "and quite unexpectedly got a new sensation. The church was brilliantly lighted, but something went wrong with the electrical apparatus, and all of a sudden most of the lights went out. Midway in the building two or three bunches of bulbs continued to shed a supernatural twilight, but the pulpit was shrouded in darkness, and nervous members of the congregation began to fidget.

"This condition of affairs lasted for some minutes until the choir had finished all antiphons. Then the preacher arose and requested the people to remain quietly seated for half a minute in total darkness, when the church would be fully illuminated again. With the words the few remaining lights went out, and for a space darkness like that of a coal hole prevailed.

"It was the weirdest, most uncomfortable wait I ever had. Every third and fourth of the 800 or 1,000 in that church was as still as death almost. I suppose the darkness did not last a minute, but it seemed to me to be an hour. When the lights again leaped out there was a sigh of relief from every person in the church. I guess they all felt as queer about it as I did."—New York Press.

The foreigner should beware of making presents to any Japanese girl unless he is bent upon matrimony. To present her with any sort of gift, even though it be only a posy, will be regarded as a proposal of marriage, and to accept the present, though not a world of love of matrimony be passed, is a sign that she accepts you. Gallant Americans have got into serious trouble, and found it necessary to leave the country at night to escape a binding engagement which they thoughtlessly incurred by giving to a maiden some trifle.—Dalton Citizen.

What physicians declare to be the smallest baby in the world was born in York, Pa., last Monday. The baby is a girl, perfectly formed, and only weighs 24 ounces.

Potatoes for Japs.

When it became apparent that war was inevitable, the Japanese immediately set about and placed orders for supplies, and one firm in California, says the Los Angeles Times, secured from the Japanese a contract to supply them with 80,000 crates of potatoes a month, before the hostilities began. This is only one of the instances which have caused such a boom of the potato market in this section, and has caused the growers to give such careful attention to their already planted crop of spuds. The demand, it is thought, will continue long after the war is over. The firm that secured the contract from the Japanese government practically cornered the northern market by purchasing 200,000 sacks at 80 cents per hundred-weight, and the price immediately jumped to $1.10 per hundred.

Her Experience.

Professor—In China criminals are often sentenced to be kept awake until insanity and death result. Now, how do you suppose they keep them from falling asleep? Little Girl (oldest in a small family)—I expect they give 'em a baby to take care of.

MRS. CECILIA STOWE,
Dorset, Maine News Club.

178 Warren Avenue, Chicago, Ill., Oct. 22, 1902. For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disappointed as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Mrs. Stowe's letter shows every woman how a home is saddened by female weakness and how completely Wine of Cardui cures that sickness and brings health and happiness again. Do not go on suffering. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

Before It is Too Late.

If you have a gray-haired mother in the old home far away, Sit down and write the letter You put off day by day. Don't wait until her tired steps Reach heaven's pearly gate— But show her that you think of her Before it is too late. If you've a tender message, Or a loving word to say, Don't wait till you forget it, But whisper it today. Who knows what bitter memories May haunt you if you wait? So make your loved ones happy Before it is too late. We live but in the present, The future is unknown— Tomorrow is a mystery. Today is all our own. The chance that fortune lends to us May vanish while we wait, So spend your life's rich treasure Before it is too late. The tender words unspeak, The letter never sent, The long-forgotten messages, The wealth of love unsent. For these some hearts are breaking, For these some loved ones wait— So show them that you care for them Before it is too late. —McCall's Magazine.

An Unbiased View.

Wednesday, April 20th, the voters of the 9th congressional district will nominate a candidate for congress. In the discharge of this duty we should not seek to gratify the personal ambition of any candidate for the nomination. Any one in the district has a right to offer himself as a candidate and ask the support of the people of the district, but in casting our ballots we should not be actuated by personal friendship or personal preference, but should vote for some one, who, in our judgment is capable of rendering the best service to his constituency. We are not voting simply to confer an honor on the applicant or to gratify his personal ambition, but to select some one to act as our servant. Indeed a congressman after all is only a servant of the people he represents. Taking into consideration therefore the capacity of the applicants to render the best service to our people we believe the circumstances warrant the re-election of Mr. Tate. His experience covering a period of twelve years will be of great service to him, if he is returned. If it is true that experience is helpful to the physician, the lawyer, the merchant and the farmer, and indeed every other calling in life, then it follows necessarily that the same principle will apply to those who serve us in congress.

Besides, Mr. Tate's record is rather remarkable. He has never made a single mistake during his twelve years service in congress. If he has it has not been pointed out during this campaign. During a heated canvass, such as is now going on in this district, if errors exist they are brought to light and made public. The record of the past and the promise of the future indicates to us that the time has not yet come to discard Mr. Tate.—Commerce News, Jackson County.

Consumptives are to be barred from first-class Pullman cars on the Santa Fe Railway, and hospital cars on through trains will be provided for them. These cars will be especially equipped, and none but sick persons will be allowed to ride on them. This innovation will be put into effect between Chicago and Kansas City to Colorado, New Mexico and California points, over practically the entire system. The hospital cars will probably be put on at the opening of the summer tourist business this season.

When Nature is Remiss.

Nature nods undoubtedly at times, as in the case of the child born without a brain, whose case has been made public this week. Not long ago an infant was born and lived for three weeks with a hole through its heart. Thousands of us are color blind, others have no musical sense. And there are many Laura Bridgman, many Helen Kellers. The queen of Rumania has or had at her court in personal attendance upon herself the danger of a blind nobleman. She could neither hear nor speak and had to be taught to communicate by holding the throat of a speaker and imitating the vibration produced by the effort. But what a grudge against nature must such a one as Lyon Playfair discovered over feel!

Here was a girl who was blind, deaf, dumb and could neither taste nor smell. One might be pardoned for asking if such a life was worth living. Yet there was a beautiful lesson in such an existence, as the great warm heart of Playfair discovered. He sent her a pretty finger ring, and the poor mite replied in this pitifully pretty letter: "Dear Sir Lyon Playfair; Sir Lyon Playfair sent Edith ring in box. Edith thank Sir Lyon Playfair for ring. Sir Lyon Playfair come to see Edith. Good-by. Edith." During his visit the child had closely examined his hands, wrists, arms and face, her touch being marvellously accurate. A year later he went again to see her. At first she did not recognize him and no one betrayed his identity. At length she turned back the cuff of his shirt and touched his wrist. Her face lit up with intense joy. "It is the Englishman who gave me the ring," she rapidly spelled out on her fingers. And in a second she had flung her little arms around his neck and was weeping with delight at the recognition. — St. James' Gazette.

Undecided.

One day a certain professor of mathematics at Ohio University prepared to set out on a short journey on horseback, says Lippencott's. He was an absent-minded person, and while saddling the animal was thinking out some intricate problem. Some students stood near and watched him abstractedly place the saddle on hind-part-before.

"Oh, professor," exclaimed one of the group, "you are putting the wrong end of your saddle foremost."

"Young man," replied the professor with some tartness, "you are entirely too smart. How do you know it is wrong, when I have not yet told you in which direction I intend to go?"

A merry-go-round man at La Crosse, Kansas, got his leg caught in the cable of his machine. The crowd could hear the leg crack as it was broken in several places. The machine was clogged and stopped. Women fainted and men paled. The unfortunate man smiled wearily, wiggled around and unstrapped a wooden leg, and then announced cheerfully: "Get your tickets for the next ride." Exchange.

There would be a great crop in Georgia next year if all the defeated candidates could be persuaded to take to the plow as soon as the primary is over, and it would tend to make them forget their troubles besides. — Darion Gazette.

The Men Girls Admire.

They admire the man who is always loving and respectful towards his parents, and who shows his respect by unflinching courtesy and solitude.

They admire a man who, although witty, is talented, is not conceited, or if so, keeps it hidden; who is not egotistical and takes an interest in other people's joy and sorrows besides his own.

They admire the man who is a perfect gentleman—who knows how a lady should be treated, and never forgets to offer her his chair, open the door for her and the hundred and one other little attentions which a girl so appreciates.

They admire the man who can keep his temper under control, and not descend to bad language should anything happen to displease him. A girl is not slow to recognize various points in a man's character, and few gain her admiration more than an even temper.

They admire the man who can understand a hint, and has tact enough to see when his presence is undesirable. Tact is essential in everybody's nature, though few men possess it in any marked degree.

They admire the man who never bores them, who has always something fresh to say, or, if not, a new way of saying old things. Once a girl's interest is thoroughly aroused, a man should have no difficulty in winning her love.

They admire, above all, the man who is a true friend and faithful lover, whose every action speaks of a noble nature, to which the word "dishonor" is unknown.

EDITOR NUGGET:

I understand that there is being false reports circulated on A. L. Jackson, (my son), such as are positively false. If some can't get office without misrepresenting things they had better come down, get them a job and go to work.

Respectfully,
A. D. JACKSON.

A severe wind storm in Whitesboro, Ky., recently picked up a hive of bees and dashed it through a farmhouse window. The hive was demolished, and the liberated bees soon made it so uncomfortable for the human occupants of the house that they were compelled to vacate it and rush out in the storm. Lightning struck a tree in the orchard under which were several other hives; and all the bees were shocked to death and the honey in one hive melted by the heat of the electric discharge.

Wiping Out an Insult in Texas.

A well known member of the American colony boarded a crowded car one day recently, and in the jam happened to brush against two Mexican gentlemen, well dressed and of distinguished appearance. One of them, after a few tense words with his friend, turned to the American gentleman and commenced expostulating with him. The American, not understanding Spanish well, thought nothing particular of the incident until the two men got off the car when he did and continued to address him as before. Calling a friend who was passing he asked him to act as interpreter. Then he discovered that the two men thought he had insulted them by brushing against them and they asked for satisfaction. The American got mad. He told the two gentlemen that he would meet them, one after the other, at any place, with any weapon, and would give them all the satisfaction that they possibly want. With that the American handed them his card. They glanced at the name on the card, then took off their hats, bowed low and begged the American's pardon, saying that they were mistaken, for the American was a gentleman and would not insult them under any circumstances.—Mexican Herald.

The girls of Japan have a hard row to hoe, as the saying is. In a little book called The Japanese Bride, written by a Japanese man, Naomi Tamura, there are revelations which would make an American girl consider herself fortunate. A Japanese woman must be subservient to men all her life, in youth to her father, in marriage to her husband, in old age to her eldest son. The wedding is arranged, and in many cases she sees her future husband only once before marriage. The association of young men and young women in society is unknown, even during courtship, and ladies and gentlemen there never dance together.

It is not best every time to send young orators to the legislature who like to speak. They wait too much valuable time making a big noise and accomplishing nothing. A man can't watch after the interest of his county and be making a noise all the time. As an illustration, take our present representative, Hon. G. D. Bruce. He kept quiet, watched every movement and talked only when it was necessary, thereby securing a larger appropriation for the college at Dahlonega than has been received at any one time for years.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Whitfield county got her first free rural delivery last week.

State Attorney Hart has given it as his opinion that dispensaries are liable to an occupation tax of $200 and to ad valorem taxation in addition.

Hon. Tom Bell is campaigning for congress against Carter Tate with a brass band. Looks like a Bell could make noise enough by itself.—Calhoun Times.

The New York legislature has passed a bill authorizing the payment by that state of a pension of $75 per month to Hiram Cronk, the last American survivor of the war of 1812.

Tom Watson still asserts that Mr. Cleveland did have a negro and his white wife to dine with him. Watson is a wise man and has a good memory and we believe what he charges is true.

Strange to say that some of our most prominent democrats are going to vote for new "penitents" in preference to old time democrats. This is poor encouragement to the old timer and a big encouragement to the republican and disorganizer.

Mr. Tom Tate informs us that he has a notion of running for sheriff. Tom is a good clever fellow, but a republican, and we don't think he will be able to "get there." Though, if some of the democrats do like they are now acting he will get several votes.

Congressman Tate has voted right on public questions, is a hard worker for the interest of the whole people, faithful and ever ready to grant every request made of him in so far as he is able to do. His years of service fit him for even more efficient service whether under republican or democratic administration. A new man would be just ten years behind him. What good reason then is there for a change? But the people will vote right, too, and there will be no change—Cherokee Advance.

Hon. F. C. Tate spoke at the court house Friday night. His theme was a reply to the criticisms made upon him by his distinguished competitor Mr. Bell. The friends of Mr. Tate were well pleased with his speech—every criticism being explained satisfactorily to them. They recognize in him his ability and his years of experience in congress to more ably represent the Ninth district than any other man who could be sent to the next congress. Mr. Tate has been in congress long enough to become known throughout the length and breadth of this country, and his twelve years' experience has ripened into his usefulness to the people of the Ninth Congressional District of Georgia and the entire nation.—Banks County Journal.

At Savannah Thursday, April 7, a report reached Judge Emory Spear of the United States court for the southern district of Georgia that Harry Olson, the man convicted of shanghaiing negroes aboard a bark bound for England, intending making an assault upon the court. When this news was conveyed to Judge Spear he ordered an adjournment for an hour. During that time officers of the court made a thorough search of the prisoner but failed to discover the revolver he was reported to be carrying. They also made provision to frustrate a plan the prisoner's friends were said to have made to rescue him from them. Olson was sentenced to serve five years in the Federal prison at Atlanta and to pay fine of $5,000. The sentence was the first imposed under the recently enacted law against shanghaiing.

McKinley and Roosevelt.

In his more youthful days President Roosevelt was an enthusiastic civil service reformer, and we doubt not that then he was perfectly sincere. Even now, according to his own pretensions, he is the foremost civil service reformer in the United States. Yet he has violated the civil service laws in making appointments sixty times—a thing that President McKinley was prevailed upon to do only three times.

This is shown in a report sent to Speaker Cannon by the Civil Service Commission on Tuesday last. The matter attracts more attention than would ordinarily be the case because of Mr. Roosevelt's pretensions and his record as a boomer of civil service reform. Roosevelt's sixty lapses and McKinley's three in this particular furnish a pretty fair measure of the success of the two men in faithfully meeting their responsibilities. It is safe to say that McKinley was twenty times as scrupulous as Roosevelt in respect for the laws and precedents in general, and twenty times as anxious to be the president of the whole people regardless of party or section. The above language comes from the Macon Telegraph and no truer words could be uttered.

Chief Justice Simmons, is a candidate for re-election, you haven't forgotten him, have you? He held court here a number of years ago. From his youth up he has been a consistent member of the church. In his young manhood he gave the best four years of his life to his service of his country, and as a confederate soldier, fought his way up from the rank of the private to the rank of Colonel. He has been throughout his whole life, absolutely true to the best traditions of our Southern laws. Until called to the bench he was foremost in all the battles of democracy, and was one of the most commanding figures in the democratic party of the state during the trying hours of the reconstruction. He is now endorsed by hundreds of the leading attorneys of the state.

It has been asserted that there is no proof that Carter Tate has had more rural mail routes established in the 9th, since July 1st, than in any other district for the same length of time. If you think this not correct, we have a letter from C. A. Conrad, acting fourth assistant P. M. General, who states that Mr. Tate has established 37 routes in this district "which is more than have been established in any other district in the state of Georgia during that time." This is exactly his language.

Mr. J. H. Hunt, proprietor of the Arlington hotel at Gainesville, is suffering from the effects of sticking a nail in his foot, and fears are entertained lest blood poison set in. He is having work done on the hotel, enlarging the building by fourteen rooms, and it was while he was looking after this work that he stepped on a nail.

In his speech, Mr. Shultz has referred to "father Townsend" a number of times since our last issue, in a very pleasant manner, though failing to deny the charges THE NUGGET made against him. The people of this county are well acquainted with "father Townsend" and know that he does not make assertions that he cannot prove, is all we have to say on the subject. Isn't this enough?

The registration book of Lumpkin county is in bad shape. A number of voters have registered two or three times, and a lot of persons who are not on the tax digest are found on the registration book. It would be a good idea for the tax collector or receiver to make a note of this.

"Cousin" Tom Bell came in with his band and spoke at the court house last Thursday night. Tom is a good clever fellow but won't do to go to congress this time.

White's Candidates.

White county has the following candidates:—Senator 32nd district, J. W. H. Underwood and J. R. Lumsden; Representative, C. H. Edwards; Ordinary, S. L. Brown and J. H. Freeman; Clerk, C. W. Ledford; Sheriff, W. A. Jackson; Tax Collector, A. H. Henderson, Jr., and S. N. Black; Tax Receiver, T. K. Ghee and W. J. Oakes; Treasurer, Joseph P. Evans, L. S. Sears and John T. McAfee.

Well, the present campaign has about ended and before another issue of the THE NUGGET the thing will come to a close. Cast your ballot for the most intelligent, best qualified and "old time" democrats, and all will be well.

There has been frost in many sections of the south during the past few days, but it is thought that the fruit crop is still safe except here in the mountains. Considerable damage has been done but we have some fruit left yet.

Some of the republicans of this county favored white primaries, but still they will vote for negro delegates to help represent the party. They did it right here in the court house not long ago.

In Atlanta last week a man obtained $18,000 for twenty-four feet of land which gives some idea as to what a desirable location is worth down that way.

Don't forget that a mass meeting of the democrats of Lumpkin county will be held in the court house on Thursday at 11 o'clock the 21st inst.

At Talbalt last Sunday, Jimmie Anderson was shot and killed by Walt Bunkley at church, about fifteen cents. Both negroes.

We understand that Judge J. C. Brittain is thinking of making the race for coroner on the independent ticket.

From a message received from Dawson county this week, we learn that Carter Tate will carry that county by a big majority.

Do you appreciate what Carter Tate has done for his constituents? If so go out to the polls next Wednesday and show that you do.

The dailies tell us of a Russian battleship being sunk a few days ago containing 800 persons, by striking a floating mine.

A so-called Chicago preacher predicts that the end of the world will come this year. Very wise, indeed.

There are several old confederate soldiers in Lumpkin county this time candidates for office.

Now in a few more days a lot of candidates will come down and give the voters a rest.

The Japanese are still getting the best of the Russians.

A move is on foot for congress to adjourn April 21st.

There will be no change. It will still be F. C. Tate, M. C.

Congressman Tate.

Congressman F. C. Tate addressed the people of Hall county at the county court house yesterday in interest of his candidacy for congress from the Ninth district. He was greeted by a very large and enthusiastic audience of representative citizens and was given the closest attention in his speech of an hour and a half, and his remarks were frequently interrupted with applause.

Congressman Tate was introduced by Mayor Howard Thompson, who declared that Col. Tate should be returned to congress. He said that Col. Bell could not claim the support of Hall county on the grounds of his being a home man, for, said Col. Thompson, when I was a candidate four years ago, Mr. Bell went all over the district and stated that the district could not afford to put Tate out for he was in the prime of his usefulness and to put a new man in would be a mistake.

Col. Tate reviewed his record since his election to congress twelve years ago and gave an explicit account of his stewardship. He said that his desire was to be returned so that he might continue his work for his constituents, and to push forward the matters for their benefit he now had under way. He said he was in position to do better work than ever before, and pledged his best efforts to the entire district, regardless of county lines, which, he said, were entirely obliterated from his mind. He also answered the various charges made against him by his opponents.—Gainesville News.

Saturday afternoon at the Athens dispensary R. T. Wright, one of the salesmen, knocked down an old man named Johnson with a club. Johnson had bought liquor and wanted to drink it on the premises which was contrary to the law. Wright so informed him, but he got mad and cursed Wright, using a very vile epithet. At this Wright seized a policeman's club and struck Johnson over the head. The blow felled Johnson to the floor and for a while he was unconscious. He rallied however, and was soon able to go to his home near Athens.

This is military week down at Gainesville and a big crowd of the young soldiers have been there.

The last quarterly statement under the law regulating the manner in which the labor of the felony convict was to be disposed of has been prepared by Secretary Yancey of the prison commission and is ready to be delivered to Comptroller-General Wright, who will at once collect the amount due the state by the several captivities who had the labor of this class of convicts and turn the proceeds into the treasury. The old law ended its existence March 31, and the new law went into effect April 1. The total amount due the state for the last quarter, ending March 31, is $51,149.77. Commencing April 1 the state will get about twice as much money for the hire of its convicts as it did under the old law, this being the result of receiving better prices for the labor of the men. The average price of the convicts now is $225 a year. Under the old law the average price was $90.

CHALLENGE FROM DR. C. H. JONES.

Dr. C. H. Jones is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Dahlonega or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction Dr. Jones will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents. This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizzy feelings, constipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

Take advantage of Dr. Jones' challenge and secure a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund your money if it does not help you.

There is no need of suffering with constipation, dyspepsia or liver disease when you get age, eighty doses of a scientific medicine for their cure like Dr. Howard's specific for the small sum of 25 cents.

Court Postponed.

CHAMBERS, CLEVELAND, GA.

A mistake occurred in our columns last week, which we wish to correct, because it is due the party. It was in reference to some mischief done up in Chestnut. It was Willis Jones instead of Will Jones.

The pauper expenses of Lumpkin county has greatly increased in the last six months—nearly double, and the grand jury should take steps to have it remedied. Either purchase a farm or make arrangements with some one to care for the paupers.

Mr. James M. Duckett of Porter Spring, informs us that it was not Charlie Anderson who is charged with breaking into the stable of Mr. J. B. Brookshier a few nights ago near Dahlonega. Mr. Duckett says that Charlie can prove where he was that night. This we are proud to learn. Mr. Brookshier does not know Charlie, neither do we and no doubt it was some one else who knew Charlie and shouldered him with the responsibility, because the next morning when the fellow left he didn't go in the direction of Porter Springs.

W. F. BRYSON.

"Shotgun" Walker, in reply to what we asked last week about his being a republican nationally and a democrat locally, denies the charge and says that he is a true democrat and will stick to the "building."

There has been no college exercises this week. The students are all down at Gainesville, attending the encampment. They were accompanied by Maj. Tillson, who always has an eye to the interest of the college.

On my way from Dahlonega to my boarding place, not long since, I picked up a pair of spectacles, which evidently belong to an old man who was in a buggy. The owner may call and get them.

W. F. BRYSON.

A man named Collins, who resides at New Bridge, charged with selling liquor, is a pitiful looking case, and what will be done with him in case he is convicted we do not know. He has to use two crutches in order to travel and is totally unable to work.

On the 26th is the usual time for the people of the south to pay their respects to those who died in the defense of their country. It is hoped that a program will be gotten up for the exercises to take place that day. Sometimes they are postponed here, and whenever it is done most of the people lose all interest in it, and it is better to have none at all.

It is now 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning and everybody in Dahlonega is asleep except ye editor and the candidates. Candidates are the most restless people we have now and don't sleep much.

The registration book for the primary closed last Saturday and the chairman of the democratic executive committee has been busy in preparing the voters list for each district in the county. Some of our citizens registered twice while some very prominent ones neglected to avail themselves of the opportunity. Such is life.

As it has been charged that Mr. W. W. Crissom, superintendent of the Crown Mountain Gold Mining Co., would discharge any of his hands should they vote contrary to his wishes, he wants us to say that it is untrue and without any foundation whatever. He makes his choice, he says, and those working for him are at liberty to do the same without any danger of losing their jobs.

The communication received, preferring charges against a certain candidate, is not published because there would be no chance for the party to reply before the primary. We take no advantage of any candidate in this way ourselves and will allow any one else to do so. It's not right nor just, for any one to wait till the eve of the election before making complaints or preferring charges. This explains it in a nutshell.

W. Anderson, a son of Mr. Ens Anderson, residing near Porter Springs, was brought in this week and lodged in Lumpkin jail, charged with an assault with intent to murder. He went to the field where Will Jones was plowing and shot three or four times at him with a shotgun loaded with No. 8 shot. Fortunately the man got behind his mule and saved himself—the shot took effect in the mule but Anderson was too far away to do much damage. The parties had had a falling out before about the changing of some money, so we understand. So the result is Anderson was arrested and bound over to the superior court.

Judge John Huff received notice this week that his brother, William Huff, died on the 13th inst. at Oranville, Cal., aged 74. The deceased left this county for California in 1850. He returned on a visit in 1857 and that is the last time he was ever here.

Mr. Tom Bell, candidate for Congress from this district, addressed the citizens at the court house last Thursday night. The house was filled with men, women and children, who gave him the closest attention from beginning to ending, and every one behaved nicely.

Dahlonega Cadets Lead The Van at Gainesville.

Last week Maj. Tillson received an invitation by the Gainesville authorities to come down and be at the military parade which was to occur Friday, April 15th. The Major being active on all such occasions accepted the invitation and immediately set about a lively preparation.

So the Battalion spent Monday and Tuesday in getting ready, and on Wednesday morning, bright and early, they set out for the Queen City.

The cadets of the University of Georgia were already there and had created quite an impression, being from such an old institution as Georgia prides herself with. The Candler Horse Guards of Atlanta, and the Walton Guards of Monroe, Ga., were also to be on the scene.

With a genuine nerve the Battalion from the N. G. A. College arrived about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Peculiar it was, but nevertheless true, as soon as the blue and the gray came upon the scene all eyes were turned to the North Georgia boys. In response to citizens of the town, they executed some movements in battalion drill on the public square. The drill was applauded by everybody who saw it. The ladies as well as men were anxious to see a battalion drill that had the true military bearing. The Dahlonega boys were at once master of the situation in the face of all other competitors.

Later—Just before going to press a message from Gainesville states that some of the other cadets would drill against the N. G. A. C's, and all of the latter are conducting themselves in a gentlemanly manner. The report that any fifteen cadets being locked up all being false.

Mining Notes.

Every thing in mining circles in this county is moving along as usual and we will not go into full details this week, but in reply to a letter of enquiry received yesterday from the north about the Standard we will say that the Singleton mill is running on good ore and they are making money now. In addition to the company's operation several miners are profitably engaged at other places on the property of the company.

The prettiest nugget we have looked at in some time was found last Wednesday by Mr. Peter Woody on his property near the Briar Patch. It weighed five and three-fourth pennyweights and was a beauty.

The placing of the machinery at the Gorge goes on as fast as possible. At what time it will be finished we cannot tell as the machinery is all heavy and it is very slow work in getting it in position. When this is done the plant will supply abundance of power for all intended purposes.

A party of Western miners visited Auraria this week and was well pleased with what they saw and are negotiating for some fine property near the Briar Patch and if they succeed in getting it something will be doing and that right away. Every one visiting Auraria want something as near the Briar Patch as can be had for without a single exception they all say the Briar Patch is a big gold mine and the placer diggings are immense and very rich.

DAHLONEGA, GA., April 12, 1904.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Crown Mountain Gold Mining and Milling Co. will be held at the office of the Company, at Dahlonega, Georgia, Wednesday May 4th, 1904. In addition to the usual business at the annual meeting the stockholders will be asked to devise means by second mortgage or otherwise, for completing the Gorge power and to consider any other business that may be presented. The plant, in part, is now running with results more favorable than at any time heretofore and the importance of the immediate completion of the Gorge power will be manifest to all interested in the company. Stockholders who cannot attend in person should give proxies to those who can.

A. J. WARNER, Pres. J. F. MOORE, Sec'y.

Investment, Not Expense.

Advertising is an investment. Like an investment in bonds or in stocks or anything else, it is expected to bring in returns; but, like them and all other investments, it is accompanied with some risks. The risk is mostly a matter of judgment in matter, method and medium. Too many advertisers figure advertising as expense, however, and are more interested in getting it down as close as possible than in figuring it as investment and trying to see how much they can get out of it. The advertiser who is anxious to see how much space he can get for a little is pretty sure to neglect the more important matter of putting the proper things into that space to make it profitable. Not that advertising should not be bought as economically as possible—space should be bought as carefully as anything else—but, unlike merchandise, which, being well bought, is half sold, advertising space may be bought ever so cheap and yet be next to worthless because its true value is not made use of.

We had ice first of the week here but the weather is now moderating.

Cols. Charters and Lilly have been off this week on a "courting" expedition to Towns.

Don't forget to return your city taxes. The time is not very long now before the book closes. Councilmen Price or McGee will take them.

A Wasted Hour.

An hour wasted seems of small account, but an hour too late for the cures, the boat or the bank, may cost a fortune, a journey or a life.

An hour of sin may cause a life of sorrow, and an hour's delay in case of fire, disease or danger, may ruin the most vital interest.
But even if all hours were alike and no grand and critical periods where lifetimes are massed in moments, yet a wasted hour is no trifling affair. Time is the warp into which life is woven, and so wasted time is a lost life. Suppose we lose an hour every day.
Here are seven hours lost in a week. 365 hours or thirty-six days and a half of working time in a year or five years of time lost in fifty years. Who can afford such waste?

Life is short, time is precious,
labor is needed, laborers are few,
and yet men trifle away moments, which are more precious than gems, and wasted and squandered hours, which gold could never purchase.

Which tears can never regain.
See then that you walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise men redeeming time, because the days are evil. So let's be ready for labor, burdens or for enduring sorrow. Our service shall be accepted of God in this world and shall not lose its reward, and coming at last to the bound of life we can say we have fought a good fight.—E.S.

Praying in Japan is made very easy. In the streets are tall posts with prayers printed on them, and with a small wheel attached.
Any one passing by can give the wheel a turn and that counts a prayer. The ainus, residing in Yezo, the second largest of the 8,85 islands of which the empire is composed, worship the hear and revere the sun, moon, fire, wind and water.—Cobb County Courier.

It has been discovered that Government clerks use carriages paid for by the Government for the purpose of making social calls, and Congress will put a stop to the practice. Evidently there is a concerted effort to make the Government clerk come down to the common level, observes the Chicago News.

Whether it blows or whether it snows, the season comes and the season goes; the crops get sick and the farmers blue—the storekeepers kick and the lawyers sue, the preachers preach and the sinners sin, and cares beset the souls of men. But through it all the printers prints, he saves and stints and stints; the winds may rave and the floods may roll and droughts break through from pole to pole;
but the printer may be prints and prints, saves and saves and stints and stints—happy printer man; he does the very best he can sticking type or twisting press, he trusts to luck and does his best.—

According to the New York
Herald there have been 6,000 deaths in New York City since December 1st, caused by pneumonia. And the Philadelphia Record declares that there has been a proportionately severe visitation of the scourge in Philadelphia and in other parts of the country—all of which goes to show that in spite of the advance in medical discovery we are still very much at the mercy of this fell disease when outdoor conditions are favorable for its spread. During the past winter it has numbered even more victims than consumption, heading the list in the records of mortality.

LIVER TROUBLES

"I used Thedford's Black-Draught, a good medicine for liver disease, and found it very effective. It has been used by doctors. It is all the medicine I take."—CAROLINE
MARTIN, Parkersburg, W. Va.

If your liver does not act regularly go to your druggist and secure a package of Thedford's
Black-Draught and take a dose tonight. This great family medicine frees the constipated bowels, stirs up the torpid liver and causes a healthy secretion of bile.

Thedford's Black-Draught will cleanse the bowels of impurity and strengthen the kidneys. A torpid liver invites colds, biliousness, chills and fever and all manner of sickness and contagion. Weak kidneys result in Bright's disease which claims as many victims as consumption. A 25-cent package of Thedford's Black-Draught should always be kept in the house.

"I used Thedford's Black-
Draught for liver and kidney complaints and found nothing to equal it."—J. M. COFFMAN, Marshfield, Ill.

Captain Edward S. Avis,
U. S. A.

(From the Spirits of Jefferson.)

The sad and unexpected intelligence was received here last week of the death of Capt. Edward Spaw Avis, United States Army, retired, which occurred at Dahlonega, Ga., on Saturday, April 2, after an illness of but one week of pneumonia. Capt. Avis was a son of the late Capt. John Avis of this place, a veteran of both the Mexican war and the War between the States, and a direct descendant of Peter Haines, the last Revolutionary soldier who lived in Charles Town. He was born at Harpers Ferry, May 15, 1857, and received his early education at the Charles Town Academy, where he was considered one of the brightest students attending that institution of learning. At the age of 18 he was appointed a cadet to West Point, afterward graduated with distinguished honors, and was commissioned a captain in the regular army, where he did efficient service. He was, during his active service, detailed as military instructor at the West Virginia University, where he also served as instructor in mathematics. He subsequently served successfully as military instructor at Peekskill Military Academy, New York, as commandant of Delaware College, (where he also held a professorship in mathematics), and instructor in the Military College at Wilmington, Delaware. At the time of his death he was president of the North Georgia Agricultural College, at Dahlonega, in that State. He was a profound student, and was the author of several books on military tactics. The wife of Captain Avis, who survives him, is a daughter of Captain Carter, of Virginia, an officer of the regular army. An only son died several years ago. He is survived by six brothers and three sisters—James L., of Harrisonburg, Va.; J. Randolph, and John J., of San Francisco; Brexton D., of Washington City; Walter C., of Berryville, Va.; W. Joseph, of West Virginia; and Mrs. Lizzie Cockrell, Mrs. Elmer E. Stonestifer and Mrs. Richard H. Taylor, of this place.

The Newark (Del.) Ledger of Saturday, in noticing the death and burial of Capt. Avis, says: "The residents of our town were shocked to hear the news of the death of Capt. Avis, which occurred in Dahlonega, Ga., last Saturday. After his retirement from the active service because of an injured limb he was detailed to Delaware College as commandant, also holding the professorship of mathematics, which position he resigned a few years later to become instructor of the Military College of Wilmington, and then accepted the call to the presidency of the Agricultural College of Georgia. A few days ago he was attacked by what appeared to be a mild case of grippe, which suddenly developed into pneumonia, and soon ended the life of the sturdy soldier."

The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, at his late residence on Main street. A quartette, composed of Messrs. Worth and Wilson, and Messrs. Hoesinger and Widdows, sang "Asleep in Jesus" and "The Christian's Good Night." In the funeral address Rev. Dr. Rowan eulogized the deceased as a man who found his highest pleasure in doing good to his needy fellow creatures; a man of books; and a true and tried soldier. The cadet corps from Delaware College acted as escort for the funeral procession, marching with slow and measured tread to the place of interment, Head of Christian Cemetery, according to the beloved dead all the military honors due his rank. After the religious ceremony the American flag and the sword once worn by the deceased officer were removed, and the coffin gently lowered; after which the cadet corps fired three volleys, and then the bugler standing at the head of the open grave sounded taps. Both the church and military services were solemn and impressive.

"We are but echoing the sentiment of the entire community when we extend to the bereaved widow our sympathy, especially as the death of her husband followed within three years the decease of her son, thus imposing on her a double burden."

SOMETHING BETTER FOR YOUNG MEN

Than Political Office Holding.

In electioneering some would have the impression that there is no laudible ambition or future honors for the bright eyed, strong minded boys of our land save that of politics and filling of political offices, and that faithful and experienced office-holders should be cast aside to make place for some new and untried man so as to encourage the young to aspire to office holding. Such teaching is wrong in principle. To thus encourage the young does them an injury, and, if the advice were followed, soon would fill our state and the nation with political time-servers and demagogues.

We should encourage, by precept and example, every laudible effort of the boys and girls to gratify ambition along right lines. Youth is given us that we may train our minds and shape our minds and shape our characters so as to become worthy of the place or position our talents and energies best fit us for, but we should not look to office-holding as all there is in this life worthy our best efforts. In whatever we may find employment there is a future and honors plenty, and the young and middle aged should strive for and be encouraged to make all possible advancement, that they may fill higher and more responsible places and be of more real worth to mankind whether in the field, the shop, the professions, the arts, the home, or whatever else. The successful man, the man who most prospers and best does his work along humble lines, is the most to be honored.

More ambition is not a virtue, and one should not encourage it when not founded upon true interest in fellow man. An ambition merely to hold office in wrong and hurtful of a people.

For empty ambition gratified Means a people dissatisfied.
—Cherokee Advance.

Men Who Build Nests.

In the bushmen of Australia we find perhaps the lowest order of men that is known. They are so primitive that they do not know enough to build even the simplest forms of huts for shelter. The nearest they can approach to it is to gather a lot of twigs and grass and, taking them into a thicket or jungle, build a nest for a home. The nest is usually built large enough for the family, and if the latter be very numerous then the nests are of a very large size. Sometimes the foliage above will form a natural covering, but there is never any attempt at constructing a protection from the rain and storms.

$20,000 IN BULLFROGS.

Standing Up for the Products of Louisiana Swamps.

Discussing the contract which he has made to deliver $20,000 worth of bullfrogs in St. Louis for use during the World's Fair, Mr. Nat Wetzel is quoted as follows: "I am on record now and always as saying that the medium-sized frog of Louisiana and Texas commands a higher price in the markets of this country than his fellow-croaker of the protesting Northwest ever will command. I reiterate that the Louisiana and Texas frog is the most sought-after species of his kind in the markets. Nothing could possibly show this plainer than the fact that the Northwestern frog, the frog found in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, and, indeed, way up in Canada, is a runt and not the table equal of the frog we find in the Southern States. Another and innumerable evidence of the superiority of the Louisiana and Texas frog is the fact that they command the price of $1.25 and $2 per dozen, while the thin-legged little fellows fished out of ice-bound mudholes of the Northwest can only induce the price of 7 and 14 cents per dozen out of the pockets of commission merchants in all the markets of the country."

"Natural laws govern the production of the frog crop exactly as they govern the production of any other crop. The frog of the Northwest can no more be the desirable product of his kind than cotton would be if planted up there. The bullfrog is stunted in his growth in that section. He has to go deeper in the mud in winter in order to protect himself from a condition of temperature that he was not made to withstand. Down here he is in his proper element for development. He gets richer food in the warm waters of the Louisiana bayous and lagoons, while in the multitudinous mud holes of the Northwest he finds himself cheated of what is his just due in the way of provender. Down here also he can come out of the ground earlier and have more chance to develop than is afforded him in any of the States of the Northwest or in Canada."

"What better evidence does one want of the superiority of the Louisiana and Texas frog over his dwarfed brother of the Northwest than the fact that we now have orders to ship all the Louisiana and Texas frogs we can possibly secure to such places as San Francisco, Atlantic City, Toronto, Canada; Portland, Ore.; Boise City, Iowa, and Seattle, Wash.? This fact shows plainly that the Northwestern frog is not doing active duty on the tables of this wide section of country."

"Really, however, this procedure of mine to collect $20,000 worth of frogs in Louisiana and Texas seems to have awakened echoes from quarters that might have with more profit to themselves kept silent. A case in point is that of the editor of a newspaper in Lake Charles, La. A business enterprise which I am conducting seems to have thrown this gentleman into a nightmare from which he seems to have difficulty in recovering. He seems to live in an atmosphere of frogs, despite the fact that we only expect to catch a few in his neighborhood."

"If this gentleman will reflect more, however, he will realize that the frog-catching enterprise means something substantial to the subscribers of his newspaper. To illustrate, I may cite the fact that we now have contracts with a great many rice planters in that section to supply us with the frogs which, according to nature's laws, abound in wet places. Now, why should the editor of this newspaper object to his subscribers making two crops instead of one?"

Aged Couple Take Long Trip.

J. W. Harrison and wife, an aged couple who have traveled from New York to Atlanta in a wagon, stopped over in Acworth last Saturday and Mr. Harrison preached to a good size crowd on the streets Sunday afternoon. This couple left New York last September and were six months in making the trip to Atlanta and are now on their return to New York.

They have a complete house on wheels, in which they do their own cooking and also have sleeping apartments. They will return through Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio and Pennsylvania and expect to reach New York in September, making the trip from New York to Atlanta and return in just a year.

They take their own time in traveling and Mr. Harrison, who is an elder of the Christian church, preaches wherever an opportunity is offered.—Post.

A discussion is going the rounds as to what apparel a man should leave off when he goes to bed. We suppose it is quite useless to suggest that he might cut out his "nightcap."—Wilmington Star.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 23, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

J. A. Owens of Atlanta, is going to push a wheelbarrow from that city to St. Louis.

It is said that there will be a republican candidate in this county in the race for tax collector.

On last Friday night at Port Arthur, Texas, 50,000 barrels of oil, valued at $300,000, were destroyed by an explosion.

Now if there are any independent or republicans contemplating making races in Lumpkin county let them trot out and we will look after them until the general election comes.

Dowie has been ordered by the British government to get out of Australia and stay out. Occasionally something like this happens to prove that a monarchical form of government is not without its advantages.—Forest Blade.

We are informed that we were mistaken last week in our assertion that a negro was voted for at the recent republican convention held in Dahlonega. This we correct with pleasure. But what about the delegates from Lumpkin going down to Atlanta and voting for negro delegates there? There is no mistake about this, is there?

Now that the primary is over, let everybody settle down to business and forget any ill word that might have been uttered in the past. Life is too short to hold prejudice in our minds. If you failed to be elected or get your choice don't forget that you are honor bound to stick to your democratic brother so he will not be harmed, politically speaking.

Henry A. Rucker, collector of internal revenue for the Northern district of Georgia, who will be one of the four delegates from the state at large to the national convention of the Republican party, said last week that Georgia delegation will present the name of Hon. Walter H. Johnson of Muscogee county to the convention as its choice for the second place on the presidential ticket.

The case of the state of Georgia against the state of Tennessee pending in the United States Supreme court for the purpose of securing an injunction to prevent certain copper companies at Ducktown, Tenn., from roasting copper and sulphur ore in open air, thereby destroying the vegetation in several north Georgia counties, was dismissed last Monday by that court upon motion of Attorney General John C. Hart and Special Attorney Ligon Johnson, representing the state of Georgia, an agreement having been reached with these copper companies whereby the open air roasting of these ores will be stopped and the objectionable features of the copper works thus removed. In this agreement the state wins every contention made.

Two gentlemen suggested a plan for the next campaign the other day which we believe is a good one, and that is for delegates from each militia district, two or more, according to the number of democrats in their respective districts, whose duty it will be to meet at the court house a reasonable length of time before the election, and present the names of all the democratic candidates for the various county officers, take a vote on it and the one for each office receiving the highest vote to be the nominee. This plan has been adopted in some states and it works well. It keeps all republicans from helping to select democratic candidates and it saves time and expense of so many candidates and would cause a free election to be held one time in Lumpkin county.

The Election.

Well, the election is over and a more quiet or orderly one never occurred in Dahlonega, and we might say in Lumpkin county. Everybody at this precinct seemed to be in a good humor, though each man did all he could nearly to convince the other fellow that his man was the proper one to support, the result of which will be found elsewhere. That is for governor, the two state house officers having opposition and the county officers. Chief Justice Simmons was re-elected. So was Mr. Turner for prison commission. Mr. Tate carried Lumpkin county for congress, but Mr. Bell carried eight counties in the district and is elected. He carried his own county, Hall, by over 1,300. Mr. Bell is able, full of vim and energy and will make the 9th district a good representative.

Mining Notes.

At the Singleton, belonging to the Standard, work will be increased as soon as Mr. Breyman of the Consolidated comes so arrangements can be made to secure power from the company's plant to run the drills of the Standard. While down from New York last week Mr. A. Mann, owner of the Garnet, visited the Jumbo mine and was not long in coming to the conclusion that it was a good gold mine. The development work still continues and everything shows up fine. At the Crown Mountain a portion of the stamps still run both day and night. Some days the mill is full of ore, causing the tramping to stop after getting in a few cars. Why all the mill is not run with proper speed we do not know. It was the request of the directors at their last meeting by resolution for the plant not to be started up till it could be run on full time. The reason this request is not complied with we cannot tell you.

IT IS A MATTER OF HEALTH

Mr. Ashley has his mica mine, located in the Western portion of the county, opened up and in fine shape, showing to be a good one. Quite likely it will change hands in a short while. Then it will be worked on a large scale and be the means of bringing a lot of money into this county.

"Can you give me any information as to the present standing of the Consolidated Gold Mining Co. and Standard. The directors make no report to the stockholders and we do not know anything except what we see in your valuable paper," is the question that comes from a stockholder in Michigan. Reply: An explanation is made about a portion of the Standard Co. in another paragraph in this column. At to the Consolidated nothing is being done except the running of the electric plant for the operation of the Lockhart, lighting up Dahlonega and many of its residents and business houses, besides enough ore from various places on the property is being taken out for a test by Mr. Ewing, an expert of New York, having been engaged for some time in an examination whose object it is to find out the best and cheapest method of handling the ore. Of course Mr. Ewing doesn't talk to outsiders about the property, but Capt. Ingersoll, general manager, who consults with Mr. Ewing every day, told us recently that he felt more encouraged about the property now than at any time heretofore and that the outlook was very bright.

A number of republicans voted in the recent democratic primary out in the country. They promised to either stick to the nominees or stay at home on the final election day, but when some of their party announce, as they expect to do soon, you will begin to see the straws blow the other way.

Col. W. P. Price, one of the delegates from Lumpkin county to the state convention, is for Parker.

CHALLENGE FROM DR. C. H. JONES.

Offer to Refund Money if Dr. Howard's Specific Will Not Cure Any Case of Constipation or Dyspepsia.

Dr. C. H. Jones is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Dahlonega or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction Dr. Jones will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents. This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizzy feelings, constipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

It will regulate the bowels, tone up the whole intestinal tract, give you an appetite, make food taste good and digest well, and increase vigor. Joy and happiness will take the place of that "don't care whether I live or die" feeling.

Take advantage of Dr. Jones' challenge and secure a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund your money if it does not help you.

There is no need of suffering with constipation, dyspepsia or liver disease when you can get sixty doses of a scientific medicine for their cure like Dr. Howard's specific for the small sum of 25 cents.

Local News.

Mr. C. W. Satterfield is housed up with the mumps this week.

We were glad to state that Mrs. Strickland is still improving.

See notice of tax receiver elsewhere—first round, who will start out on the 28th.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle will leave tomorrow for Athens, where he goes to attend the U. S. court.

There will be singing at Ashley School House next Sunday. Everybody is invited to come, bring books, and sing.

Sleet on Wednesday. How's this for spring weather? The weather man is giving us a new program altogether.

The largest man in this county is Mr. Mac Rider, who weighs 303 pounds and resides at Two Run. His mother weighs about 270.

Our old friend, Mr. J. B. Witt, who has been doing business at McChesney, Tenn., for quite a while, came home on a visit this week.

Mr. James Lance, who went West some months ago, returned last week. He says that there is no place like home and that he has come to stay.

Now that the election is over let all those who have told so many falsehoods during the campaign go to praying. Maybe they can get forgiveness, but it is very doubtful.

Mr. J. B. Witt tells us that he is not yet ready to move his family from Dahlonega, and does not wish to on account of our good schools. This decision of his we note with pleasure.

Mr. H. N. Seabolt of Randa, passed through Dahlonega last Tuesday with the wings of a wild gobbler killed up in Chestatee district recently, having a beard measuring four inches.

We noticed on Hall's Villa register this week the names of Mr. W. L. Holbert of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hall and daughter from Blue Ridge, Ga.

Some parties in Dahlonega this week informed us that Mr. Dan Allison, a son of Mr. Marshall Allison of White county, was killed a few days ago in South Carolina by falling from a trestle.

A difficulty occurred over at Wahoo law ground between Mr. Young Abercrombie and John Sullins about the election, we suppose, resulting in Abercrombie being hit in the head with a rock and badly hurt.

Last Wednesday while Mr. Griffin was putting up a street lamp near The Nugget office some one stole a globe during his absence of a few minutes. This shows that all the thieves are not dead in Dahlonega yet.

On last Wednesday Mr. Lewis Wells of Randa, was married to Miss Sallie Tate, a daughter of Mrs. John Tate of Willow, by Rev. Taylor Dowdy. Both of this county. May much happiness and prosperity attend them all through life.

If there is any one who differs with the editor of THE NUGGET politically, desiring to discontinue his paper on this account, let him speak out and we will stop it with pleasure. An editor has a right to his views the same as anyone else.

As we have stated elsewhere, it is doubtful whether some people will get forgiveness for the lies they have told in this campaign or not. Wash Satterfield, who was for Bell, and a relative of ours, after the polls closed Wednesday, informed us that he went out in the country and told that he saw a check that we had received from Carter Tate to help carry the county. Also certain other people in Dahlonega had gotten the same. Mr. Tate only pays us for his announcement and tickets for other counties and any one who says we got more lies.

A light frost here in low places last Tuesday morning.

We have a lot of extra NUGGETS this week at five cents each.

Mr. J. F. Broach has gone down to his old home on a visit this week.

Mr. Jess Turner, who left Dahlonega some months ago, died in Atlanta last week.

On account of bad health we understand that Mr. W. B. Woodward will move back to Dahlonega.

Let everybody pull together for Dahlonega. This is the only way to build up a place.

Last Saturday and Sunday was so cold here that the birds ceased building their nests.

Mr. Geo. W. Sain, who used to reside in Lumpkin county, is now located at Eason, Okla.

Mrs. H. C. Wheelchel left for Atlanta last week to be gone several days on a visit to her sister who lives in that city.

Mr. Ashley of Dawson county, was up to Dahlonega last Sunday. Mr. Ashley is a good jolly fellow and all the people here like him, if he is a republican.

Our poultry powders have arrived. Have a good young cow for sale cheap, also a wagon and single buggy at a very low price. B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Another cold wave here last Saturday and Sunday, catching a number of people about of wood, bringing over-coats and heavy winter clothing in use again.

By referring to our advertising columns, you will observe that there is some valuable land to be sold here on the first Tuesday. If you need any real estate this will be your time.

Mr. Guy Reese of Atlanta, came up last Saturday. Dahlonega is Guy's old home and it is always a pleasure for him to return, as well as a pleasure to his many friends to see him here.

Last week the state pension of Mrs. Rhoda Strickland of Lumpkin county, was received by Judge Huff. Her husband was drawing a pension at his death and now the wife gets it. The lady is old, feeble and deserving.

After many weeks of darkness at the young ladies' dormitory, except from the dim light of oil lamps, the electric lights were in good trim last Saturday night and the building on the high point, presented a beautiful appearance.

Some parties over from Union were telling us of a church being destroyed by fire in that county some nights ago. It was a in Canada district. Some teacher was expecting to teach school in the church, who had enemies, explains it.

Mr. Cassidy of Asheville, N. C., who is interested in a timber deal over in Union county, has been here several days since our last issue. The gentleman is also expecting to purchase some lands in Lumpkin county, near the foot of the Blue Ridge.

We have purchased all the body and job type recently used by Mr. J. A. Howard and are now better prepared to fit any one up with job work than at any time heretofore. We also have the largest stock of stationery ever brought to Dahlonega. So when you need any work call or send.

In last week's issue we stated that the United States Leather Co.'s attorney came in to begin paying for the timber lands bargained for by this company in this county, but had gone away without making any payments. Mr. Frank Jones, one of the parties interested, residing in Dahlonega, informs us that either this attorney or Col. Lilly of Dahlonega, will begin payments in a few days. There was a little deficiency in the titles to the Jones estate, which will take a few days to complete, and then "sure enough business will begin."

On last Monday Mr. Will Campbell of Dahlonega, received a message that his brother, Logan, was shot down in Alabama the day before and was in a dangerous condition. Some of the hands were shooting at a squirrel, while Mr. Campbell was on the hill above and the ball took effect in his head. Mr. Campbell left for Alabama Tuesday morning. We all deeply sympathize with this gentleman, for it does seem that he has more trouble than he can stand. But a short time ago his brother-in-law died down there, last week he was called to the bedside of his very sick father up at Cleveland, Ga., and now this additional trouble comes. Later—Mr. Logan Campbell is dead and was buried four hours before his brother arrived there. He was shot in the bowels instead of the head and Mr. Jim Tate, a son of Mrs. John Tate of this county did it.

The electric street lights are being put up now and show off well.

See the attractive advertisement of B. R. Meaders & Sons in another column.

Dr. Wheelchel spent several days with his father in Hall county this week, who is very sick.

We never before saw as much cold weather in the spring as has been this season. Early gardeners are very much discouraged.

If you are in need of something to read call to see us next week and drop a nickel in the slot and THE NUGGET will appear at your home every week.

Next week Lumpkin Superior court convenes here. It will likely continue all the week, as there is quite a lot of civil business on hand if all parties are ready.

Tax Collector Walden of this county, has been unable to make his final settlement with the state and county, on account of the bullies holding the $1,000, failing to make their returns. People have been wild over the election and nothing could be done scarcely.

Mr. A. H. Isbell of North Carolina, came in last week in company with Mr. G. O. Blurbough, a gentleman from the North. The object of their visit here is to look over a lot of timbered lands recently secured in this county by Mr. Ashley, with an eye of purchasing it.

Best line of shoes in town. Full line of ladies', men's and children's shippers. Ladies' and men's umbrellas 95c to 1.25, self opening. Summer dress goods for ladies. Plenty of men's and boys' pants, shirts and overalls. Boys' shirts 11 to 13¢ cents. White Beans and dried apples.

M. J. WILLIAMS.

The money is now ready for the timber deal that has been on hand in this county for several months, and in a few days when all the titles are passed upon by Col. Lilly, he will commence paying it out. This will put thousands of dollars into the hands of our citizens, saying nothing of the vast amount of money that will be spent by the United States Leather Co. later on.

Up in Yahoola district recently, they had a political speaking in the school house very much to the pleasure of the trustees on account of so many being drunk and vomiting all over the floor. Among other things found was a worm, and an old friend of ours, residing near by, after examining it, thinks it came from the mouth of a candidate.

On Sunday afternoon the horse belonging to Mr. John Jones of this county, was being driven in a buggy by his son, Mr. Will Jones. When he got out to open the gate near at break neck speed, running up by Smith Bro's store, down the street by Anderson & Jones and on to Mr. Frank Jones' where it jumped the fence, and strange to say, after all this round, didn't hurt the horse nor break but two or three spokes of the buggy.

On last Monday Mr. Will Campbell of Dahlonega, received a message that his brother, Logan, was shot down in Alabama the day before and was in a dangerous condition. Some of the hands were shooting at a squirrel, while Mr. Campbell was on the hill above and the ball took effect in his head. Mr. Campbell left for Alabama Tuesday morning. We all deeply sympathize with this gentleman, for it does seem that he has more trouble than he can stand. But a short time ago his brother-in-law died down there, last week he was called to the bedside of his very sick father up at Cleveland, Ga., and now this additional trouble comes. Later—Mr. Logan Campbell is dead and was buried four hours before his brother arrived there. He was shot in the bowels instead of the head and Mr. Jim Tate, a son of Mrs. John Tate of this county did it.

RETURNED FROM THE CAMP.

The N. G. A. C. Cadets Lead the Van.

Maj. Tillson, after nearly a week's stay with the college cadets in Gainesville, returned to Dahlonega last Saturday, all highly delighted with the pleasant time they had during the encampment in that city. The conduct of the cadets was so good that the citizens of Gainesville want them to return again next year. This speaks well of them and is a big advertisement for the college, besides it shows the love and respect they have for Maj. Tillson, who always has the interest of this institution at heart and is never too tired to do a thing that will benefit the college, or advance the interest of one of its students.

During this encampment the State University cadets were there and the Walton Guards of Monroe, and the Candler Horse Guards of Gainesville were present, and on Friday of last week Gov. Terrell and his staff visited the encampment. The city was thronged with people from Dahlonega, Athens and many other places, and the military showed to a splendid advantage. A sham battle was participated in by all the military, afterward dress parade was held, which created much interest, more especially among the Dahlonega people, for the N. G. A. boys never made a mistake.

But this is not all. The citizens of Gainesville put up fifty dollars for prize drills, between the Dahlonega and Athens cadets, or any others that might wish to participate, and all of them feared defeat at the hands of the N. G. A. C., and Maj. Tillson brought back the money. Three cheers for the North Georgia cadets. The people of Dahlonega feel proud of them and their command.

Maj. Tillson says he wishes he could carry them to Atlanta, Savannah and other large cities, and show all the people of the state what a splendid college we have and the great good it is accomplishing.

A great many people think because this institution is located up here in the mountains that it is just a common school and amounts to but little. These visits, as desired by the Major, would cause hundreds of people to open their eyes, see what the college is doing, and the result would be hundreds of Georgia's sons and daughters would flock to this college, and all our mountain tops would be covered with houses.

GREAT PRAISE IS DUE THE DAHLONEGA BOYS

BY MRS. E. B. SMITH.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 16.
—I have been very much interested in watching the bright young faces of the college boys who have been teaming the streets of our beautiful city for the past few days, and I think if Georgia's future be not made better and her business, industrial and political circles elevated, it will be because her young "Boys in Blue" now training have been called to their sections of our glorious republic.

The North Georgia Agricultural College boys arrived Wednesday from Dahlonega, some in hacks and a few in carriages, while the greater number of them, came the long distance of 25 miles in rude mountain wagons. The twenty-five-mile ride was disagreeable and the chilling wind hurled clouds of dust around them. The jolt of the heavy covered wagons was anything but pleasant, yet nevertheless the boys jumped out of their rude conveyances with as much grace as if each were a Vanderbilt alighting from his Pullman car.

Words are too cold to even express half the praise that is due these N. G. A. C. boys. One cannot help but read in each bright young face that marks a gentleman. On their faces you can read a stern determination for duty and a desire to accomplish and attain to higher things, and men think that Plato must have instilled, unknowingly, into their minds his "Ideal of the Cultured Man," for they "are harmoniously constituted, of well proportioned and gracious minds whose own nature moves spontaneously towards the true being of everything," and "are the friends of truth, justice, courage, temperance." Each seems to have learned with the poet, that:

"Though Duty's face is stern, her path is best,
They sweetly sleep who die upon her breast."

The boys are well disciplined and their drills will compare with any in the state. While in conversation with Major John C. F. Tillson, Sr., who is in command, he stated that the boys were placed upon their honor that they were trusted. No strict and stringent rules are binding them, except to answer promptly to roll call. Each boy was in his bed at the army last night when the 10:30 bugle was blown.

The Dahlonega school being so far from the railroad, the people of Georgia hear and see but little of it, but upon such an occasion as this when the well disciplined boys are brought to the front, the people of North Georgia as well as the entire state have reason to be proud of the N. G. A. C. boys. It seems to the writer that Dahlonega is the place for a boy who determines to make something of himself and to study. It is away from the noise and turmoil of the outside world and in the quietness of their own little city in the mountains, their characters and futures are molded.

Two young men from Dahlonega have recently entered West Point from this school and three more will enter in June. Several are in the Philippines, some entering Uncle Sam's service direct from the ranks of the N. G. A. C. Some of Georgia's noblest men are graduates of this noble institution, among them being Congressman Tate and James R. Gray, editor of the Atlanta Journal, and numbers of others equally as high in the state.

The writer has not been enabled to see much of the university boys on account of being confined to the office, but their conduct upon the streets are gentlemanly and well-behaved boys.

Do Not Marry for a Home.

Home is a woman's real sphere, however much conditions and necessities have forced her into other and more extended ones. No true woman is indifferent to home and all that it means to herself and others. The more truly womanly she is, the more she appreciates and values it.

But to marry for the home's sake is like buying a picture for its frame, or valuing the binding of the book above the book itself. No one can make the home a more important thing in married life than the man one marries, and in no possible case can the home satisfy one if the husband fails. Love for the man one marries will make a home of an attic, or the weather-side of a hedgeside. But married life, where the home comes first and the husband second, or a bad third, is a hideous travesty of what it was meant to be, and it can never draw anything but a blank in the marriage lottery.

The girl who marries for a home has provided herself for the rest of her days with a cage, which she must have with another being. The girl who marries for a home is mistaken as the man who marries for a housekeeper.

Both are oblivious of the real reasons for marriage, the highest and the best. Both put the home before the maker of it, and that leads to sure disappointment and failure in the end.

Marriage can hardly be a lottery in the case of these people. One would tell them so confidently before hand that it will never draw anything in their case but a dreary blank.

Time to Call a Halt.

Editor Reeves, of the Hardeman (Tenn.) Free Press, is not a man to be trifled with, as the following from his paper indicates:

"There are a lot of smarties in this town who think they are mighty funny. We have been having the mumps and we know we don't look like no Apollinaris Belydear, and we don't feel like a troubadour, but when some gumhead puts a notice in the sheet across the way that we are confined to our bed with an attack of gout in the face, and have to use a crutch whenever we take a drink, and when a lot of fool serenaders get under our window and sing, 'Down Where the Worstburger Flows,' it's time to call a halt. We give fair notice that our liver is unruing, and d—d if we ain't had enough."

She Wanted Her Mail.

A freckle faced girl stopped at the post-office the other day and yelled out: "Is there anything here for the Murphys?"

"No, there is nothing for any of the Murphys, Jan, Murphey, nor no other Murthey."

"Is there anything for Ann, Bob Terry, Pat, Paul, or Pete Murphey, dead or living, unborn, native or foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, black or white, franchised or unfranchised, naturalized or otherwise?"

"No, there is positively, severally, now and forever, one and inseparable, nothing for none of you."

The girl looked at the postmaster in an astonishment and said: "Please look and see if there is anything for Clarence Murthey."

A remarkable find of ancient coins has just been made by a peasant at Udine, in Venetia. While laboring in the fields near the ancient Roman road his pick struck against a solid body, which proved to be an old, roughly fashioned chest, containing a number of small gold coins, weighing altogether 77 pounds. This discovery has aroused much interest, as the coins, many of which belong to the second half of the century after Christ, are of enormous historical as well as actual value. They are, indeed, said to be worth altogether $200,000.

Waiting For the Word.

The advertising proposition all resolves itself into this: People in your community are thinking about your goods this very minute. They need them and will buy tomorrow. You need not attempt to rouse their interest by bizarre methods, for they are interested already. What the public wants of you is a clear statement of what you have to offer. That statement may be long or short. If nothing more than a price, it helps in making decisions. Simply say what there is to say in your favor. Say it briefly if possible. Say no more. Say it through the newspapers if you can.—Printer's Ink.

How Japanese Harvest Wheat.

The Japanese have a queer way of harvesting their wheat. Instead of ruthlessly cutting it down with a scythe or reaper they pull up much of it by hand and clip off the roots with shears, for they wish to keep the beautiful long, golden straws from getting bruised or broken. With the Japs, who do everything neatly and allow nothing to go to waste, the straws are almost as valuable as the grain. They first flatten the straws, and then, after being softened, they are woven, either whole or split, into matting, baskets, hats and many other articles.

War Is Hell for Horses.

While we fully sympathize with human beings who suffer in war, both those who are killed and wounded and those left at home, who often suffer vastly more, we never forget that war, more than anything else, is hell for horses, and in regard to those who get up and keep up wars, we fully agree with the clergymen who, failing to collect his salary, said to his congregation: "I have preached to you that there was no hell, but I tell you now, if there isn't a hell, there ought to be one."

Geo T. Angell.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7, 1902. Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had never heard of it and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Singer's Duster

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and I do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist to-day?

WINE OF CARDUI

A train of 33 cars filled with peanuts weighing $70,000 pounds and worth $47,000, left Suffolk, Va., one day last month for the West, some of the cars being destined for points on the Pacific coast. This is said to be the largest single shipment of peanuts ever made.

FEATURES OF THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A model farm, representing a section of 100 acres, illustrating the value of crop rotation in farming, will be one of the interesting exhibits provided by the Government. A model farmhouse, model barn, stables and outbuildings will be erected, and there will be an orchard, vineyard, garden, stock and poultry yards, pigsties and all of the other equipments for a farmstead.

A floral clock with a dial 100 feet in diameter is on the northern slope in front of the Palace of Agriculture. It is the largest timepiece ever constructed. The minute hand is fifty feet long and the numerals fifteen feet high. Flowers and foliage plants conceal the mechanical frame.

A rose garden, with 50,000 rose trees, covers four acres on the east front of the Palace of Agriculture.

A six acre map of the United States constructed of representative growing crops of each state is a Government exhibit. Under paths three feet wide mark the boundaries between states, permitting free passage of visitors.

The largest organ ever built, with 145 stops and pipes five feet in diameter, is in Festival Hall. It will be used for concerts and other musical features held in this structure.

A fireproof building containing 2,000 safety deposit boxes is provided for the use of the World's Fair visitors. Money and other valuables may be left in safe keeping for a small fee.

The Liberty bell will be exhibited in the rotunda of the Pennsylvania building. It will be the first time it ever crossed the Mississippi river.

The Department of Justice will show at St. Louis photographs of the large prisons, penitentiaries and workhouses in the United States, with specimens of work done by prisoners.

During his exile on St. Helena Napoleon told his physician, Dr. O'Meara, that the sole of the Louisiana territory to the United States was one act of his life to which he looked back with the greatest pleasure.

Mr. James F. Early has produced a superb model of the Library of Congress which will be the principal feature in the exhibit to be made under Dr. Putnam's direction at St. Louis for the government. Several of the beautiful Corinthian columns in miniature have already been completed. This work when finished promises to sustain Mr. Early's fine reputation as a sculptor and architect.

The exhibit of Alaskan trade and enterprises will be one of the most interesting at the Exposition. The resources of the Klondike—the seal, salmon, cod and halibut fisheries—will be extensively exploited. A family of Alaskan seals will be brought to St. Louis. A unique anthropological exhibit of desirable specimens will be seen. The Alaskan building is a typical Alaskan structure with four giant totem poles on each corner.

The original treaty for the purchase of the Louisiana territory, now in the vaults of the Department of State, is written on six pages of Irish linen paper bound together with a piece of green silk ribbon. The original document will be taken to St. Louis, and the first page, securely protected, will be exhibited.

A model creamery is a leading feature of the dairy section. It is 150 by 20 feet, with walls of glass. Visitors may see every process of buttermaking from the cans of fresh milk to the yellow rolls or other packages.

Politically Settled.

The action of the New York Democrats in State convention last Monday instructing the delegation from that State to the national democratic convention to vote for Judge Alton B. Parker as the Democratic Presidential nominee virtually settles the contest for this nomination, says the Columbus Enquirer, to which we agree. Democrats in all parts of the country have been looking to New York State to furnish the candidate this year, and they will accept the man whom the New York Democrats have centered upon for this high honor.

It is a foregone conclusion that the vote of New York State in order to elect their ticket. With Judge Parker as the nominee the chances for accomplishing this are excellent. Nothing can be urged against Judge Parker either as to his Democracy or his fitness and ability. For nearly a score of years he has been upon the bench of the Empire State, and all of his official acts have been characterized by a calm dignity and a high regard for constitutional law, which, at once, places him pre-eminently above the man who will be nominated by the Republicans.

In none of Judge Parker's official acts have any flaws been found, or if there have been they have not been made public. On the other hand, his judicial career has been remarkable for the clearness of his decisions, which have always been strictly in conformity with the law and the constitution.

There is every reason to believe that Judge Parker will be the standard bearer of the Democratic party in the approaching campaign. In fact, this is already as nearly settled as it could be prior to the assembling of the convention. Other Democratic conventions will fast fall in line with the New York convention and instruct for Judge Parker, and others will select delegates favorable to his nomination, even if they do not instruct for him.

Democrats should have no difficulty in harmonizing upon Judge Parker, and with harmony and unity in the ranks he should be triumphantly elected next November.

Why They are Poor.

Their ideas are larger than their purses.
They are easy dupes of schemers and promoters.
They reverse the maxim, "Duty before pleasure."

They have too many and too expensive amusements.
They do not think it worth while to save nickles and dimes.

They have risked a competence in trying to get rich quickly.

They allow friends to impose on their good nature and generosity.

They try to do what others expect of them, not what they can afford.

To Toughen Lamp Chimneys.

Cold lamp chimneys sometimes crack if the wick is turned up too high when the lamp is first lighted. The chimney should fit loosely, as the metal expands when heated and will crack the glass if it fits too tightly. Lamp chimneys last longer if annealed, which may be done by putting them into a vessel of cold water and heating to the boiling point, when the vessel should be taken from the fire and the chimneys left in until cold. One can generally buy the annealed chimneys. They cost a little more, but last longer.

SAILING ON THE PACIFIC.

The Day and Night All a Wonder and a Wild Delight.

Oh, the wonder of the great trade wind! All day we sailed, and all night and the next day, and the next, day after day, the wind always astern and blowing steadily and strong. The schooner sailed herself. There was no pulling and hauling on sheets and tackles, no shifting of topsails, no work at all for the sailors to do except to steer. At night, when the sun went down, the sheets were slackened; in the morning, when they yielded up the damp of the dew and relaxed, they were pulled tight again—and that was all.

The days and nights were all "a wonder and a wild delight," and, though I had little time from my dreary work, I stole odd moments to gaze at the unending glory of what I never dreamed the world possessed. Above the sky was stainless blue—blue as the sea itself, which under the forefoot was of the color and sheen of azure satin. All around the horizon were pale, fleecy clouds, silver setting for the flawless turquoise sky.—The Century.

Pity the Poor Bachelor.

Laying all jokes aside, what excuse has a bachelor for living? Possibly the better one is that he can't help it or that it is no fault of his that he is or that he continues to exist. These observations are made from the old maid's point from which seem to be the point from which the old bachelor is viewed. There are other viewpoints from which he appears to better advantage, particularly at first glance, but when the halo of sentiment which he has gathered around him has been blown away even these points do not offer encouraging views. The fact remains, however, that he still exists and still has natural force enough to develop a halo of sentiment that is more or less attractive to the opposite sex, if not really magnetic, and strong enough to draw attention to him, and respectful attention too. The bachelor ought to know why he is as he is, and no doubt he does, but for some reason or other he has not been entirely successful in satisfying the public that his reasons are good and sufficient. It is up to him, therefore, to set public opinion right concerning himself.—Pittsburg Gazette.

Why the Suitor Chose the Stoutest.

An amusing method of securing the marriage of his five daughters has been adopted by a wealthy tradesman in Berlin. As suitors were not apparently inclined to seek the hands and affections of the daughters, the father advertised that he would pay to the accepted suitor of each daughter a dowry in cash proportionate to weight of the selected damsel immediately after the wedding ceremony. A young lawyer was the first who submitted himself for the father's approval, and, having produced satisfactory evidence as to his respectability, he was presented to the daughters. He visited them for a week and then chose the stoutest of the five, to whom he was the other day married. When the ceremony was over the young lady was weighed and registered seventeen stone, the father immediately paying over to this son-in-law a sum of 18,000 crowns.—Westminster Gazette.

"Home again at last darling."
"John, dearest, you don't look a day older."
"I must. Centuries can't roll over a man's head without leaving traces."

"It was ages and ages, wasn't it? And, oh, John, how lonesome I have been!"

"You poor little wifey! If ever I have to go away again you shall go with me. But you're more beautiful than ever, sweet one. What have you been doing with yourself all the time I was away?"

"Thinking of you, darling, and longing and longing and longing for you to come home."

"If that is the secret of beauty I ought to have grown a perfect Adonis. And you're sure you recognized me right off without thinking at least a minute?"

"Of course, you old dear. Do you suppose I could ever forget you?"

"Good gracious, it doesn't seem possible that I've really been away only since day before yesterday, does it, sweetheart?"

"Not a bit more, husband mine, than that we have actually been married a whole month to-morrow."

Was the Heaviest Man in England.

The death was announced at Dover yesterday of Thomas Longley, whose chief title to fame was that he was the fattiest man in this country.

He even secured the recognition of royalty, and in the jubilee year received a message from Queen Victoria "congratulating her heaviest subject upon his good health."

He weighed about forty-six stone, and was over six feet in height, and measured seventy-one inches round the chest, eighty-three around the waist and twenty-three inches round the calf. He was fifty-eight years of age.

Mr. Longley was the proprietor of the Star Inn at Dover, and up to the time of his death took an active interest in the affairs of the town. Until the last year or two he was a frequent visitor to London. On these occasions he traveled in a special railway carriage, and in going about town he rode in a furniture van, no ordinary vehicle being adequate to accommodate his enormous weight. His death was due to cancer.—London Express.

Wanted to See His Home Folks.

Will Ragsdale, one of the convicts at the county camp, was found missing on Monday morning of last week. He escaped some time during the night, and, although the authorities made diligent search and offered a reward for his capture, the week passed without any information of his whereabouts.

On last Sunday afternoon, while the 22 remaining convicts were enjoying themselves as only convicts can and making the woods around the camp ring with their songs, Will came walking up, and said he had come back to work, that he only went home to see his wife and mother. After his escape on Sunday night, he made his way to Athens, where he exchanged his stripes for citizen's clothes, and then took the train for Lithonia, where his wife lives.

Will is a heavy built, black negro, capable of doing much work, and has been with the gang about two years, and has three more years to serve. He said that he had rather come back than to be brought back.—Jackson Herald.

The Politician and the Voter.

Here is a psalm in politics that was not written by the sweet singer of Israel: "The politician is my shepherd, I shall not want for any good thing during the campaign. He leadeth me into the lair of the blind tiger for my vote's sake; he fillets my pockets with good cigars and my glass of beer runneth over. He prepareth my vote for me in the absence of my better judgment. Yea, though I walk through the mud and rain to vote for him and shout myself hoarse, when he is elected straightway he forgetteth me. Lo! when I meet him in his own office he knoweth me not. Surely the wool has been pulled over mine eyes all the days of my life."

Confederate Lieutenant General.

General Stephen D. Lee of Mississippi, the first on the list, is the ranking Confederate general of the United Confederate Veterans.

General S. B. Buckner of Louisville, Ky., also is still living and is next in rank to General Lee.

General A. P. Stewart, who comes third, now lives at Chickamauga.

General Joseph Wheeler, veteran of two wars and a native of Alabama, completes the list.—Augusta Herald.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, APRIL 30, 1904.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

As the Dalton Citizen says, if you are a democrat get in the band wagon and forget all differences.

Mr. Black was nominated for the legislature in Dawson county last week without opposition. Mr. Tate carried the county by 131.

Mr. Jesse R. Lumsden of White county, was nominated last week as a candidate for the 32nd Senatorial district, having defeated Col. J. W. H. Underwood.

Judge Guber was nominated for Judge of the Superior court in the Cherokee circuit, defeating Mr. Morris by a majority of 208 votes. Mr. Morris will contest.

A republican remarked this week that his party would put out candidates in Lumpkin county from congressman on down to bailiff.

Mr. Fletcher, who resides in Dawson county, died last Tuesday from the effects of blood poison, caused by cutting his foot some time ago.

The pension bill has passed in congress and the soldiers who served in the Spanish war can now receive their pay. The Georgia soldiers will get about $15,000.

Our friend, Mr. Brooksher, was nominated in Union on the 20th for re-election to the tax collector's office of that county. Tate carried the county by 601 votes.

We understand that the Tennessee Copper Co. has suspended work at the mines for an indefinite period while installing a new process to do away with the smoke. This will throw a large number of hands out of work.

Rev. and Mrs. D. J. Burt returned a few days ago from Atlanta where they had been to attend a trial in the U. S. court against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad for killing their son, Judson, some months ago. A compromise was made for about $2,000.—Dawsonville Advertiser.

Mr. Harrington of Gwinnett county, Ga., who moved from New York about a year ago, is surprising the people with his novel and progressive ideas of farming. He believes that water cress, mushrooms and other vegetables now cultivated in North Carolina and Virginia can be profitably grown in Georgia, and is going to experiment with these and many other vegetables.

Mr. L. C. VanVleet and son, of Toledo, Ohio, who are engaged in gold mining in Dawson county and are operating a dredge boat on the Etowah river, were in Canton last Saturday in the interest of the iron properties near Canton. While here these gentlemen paid a visit to the cotton mill. They express themselves as well pleased with Canton and her industries.—Cherokee Advance.

The fish law of Georgia prescribes that, "It shall not be lawful for any person to catch or take any fish with seine, net or like device from any of the waters of this state, between the first day of June and the first day of September in each year. Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not construed to forbid the catching of fish by means of cast-nets or with hook and line.

The LaGrange Graphic tells of a Troupe county farmer who has since December 1st, with only two assistants, turned 35 acres of land with a two horse plow; has 30 acres of corn up; has 65 acres ready to plant in cotton; has 50 cords of wood hauled up and stacked; has set out 3,000 cabbage plants; has placed 2,000 rails on his fences; has set out 5 acres of bermuda grass, and in addition to this has attended to a number of minor details.

Mining Notes.

The McAfee-Lind mill was started to running again last week and the plates are showing up fine. With a good gold mine like this and with the splendid management it is receiving it will continue to turn out profitable yields.

Mr. James T. Grindle, who resides up in Frogtown district, presented us with some silver and gold ores taken from veins on his property between the Jumbo and Jellow Jacket mines, which is very fine. The gold ore is believed to be worth $75 per ton.

Mr. Disney of the Briar Patch, spent a couple of days at the mine last week in company with two other gentlemen. The number of hands on the canal will be increased right away and the work completed as early as possible. The tubes along the line will be constructed a good deal larger than was at first anticipated so as to enable them to cut the canal larger and put on more water at any time it is deemed necessary.

The property of the Etowah Gold Mining & Milling Co. was visited during the past week by a party from New York City. The party consisted of Mr. T. Holsted Smith, banker, Mr. S. W. Van Syce, mining engineer, and Mr. H. B. Barling. While the visit made by the two former gentlemen was not of very long duration, it being but a day and a half, a very comprehensive examination of the situation was made. Those parts of the property where a somewhat more detailed examination was made showed up in a most satisfactory manner, and the merits of the property were evident to all the members of the party. Capt. Jaquish has the work well in hand and the gentlemen were treated to a very clear and lucid explanation of the line of action to be followed.

Mr. Barling, who is also a mining engineer, a graduate of the Columbia School of Mines, New York City, will remain at the "Josephine" for some little time. His stay will be more in the nature of a visit than as an engineer, although his services are always at the command of Capt. Jaquish. Mr. Barling has expressed in no undecided manner, his appreciation of the resources of the "Josephine," both with regard to its very large and rich deposits, and its splendid location with respect to its magnificent water power. It is, in his opinion, the combination of these two very necessary features in mining work that speaks well for its eventual success. The flume at the McCleskey branch is now completed and on Monday of this week the gates were opened for the first time. The water rushed strongly and rapidly to the flume, from which it was diverted to the branch, but it gave but an inkling of the power which the Etowah river will supply to the operations. From the branch on to the mill the waterway is not yet complete. There is still considerable blasting to be done on the side of hill, but work is being pushed in this line and the entire ditch should soon be ready. A most discouraging feature, which Capt. Jaquish is obliged to deal, is the lack of cut timber. The sawyers, who have his timber bills, are obliged to close down their mill for repairs, and as the saw mills in the district are running now at full capacity, it would appear that this feature will hold up the work for the time being. However, the energy and resourcefulness of Capt. Jaquish are well known and it is not probable that he will allow the lack of timber to delay the work to any extent. All in all, we look for this mine to be one of the best producers in the district if not in the South and it is with pleasure that we note from week to week, its steady progress.

It only costs the nominated candidates a small amount to have their names appear in THE NUGGET from now till the final election. So let each one send in his money and name at once so we can begin this work.

A Big Time in Gainesville.

On Friday night of last week the friends of Thomas M. Bell, who recently defeated Carter Tate in the primary for congress in the Ninth district, met in Gainesville and had a big jubilee over his success. People were there from all parts of the county and from various portions of the district, being the largest gathering on a political occasion ever held in the city between two suns. Music was furnished by three or four brass bands, and to say that it was a lively time doesn't begin to express it. Speeches were made by Mr. Bell and a number of his friends.

Mr. Bell's friends have a right to rejoice, for it was certainly a big victory for this gentleman to defeat the present congressman with twelve years experience on the "first round," with so little time for practicing.

The gentleman opened the campaign at Buford on March 14 and in 34 days made 64 speeches, traveling on an average of 25 miles a day, or 850 miles to make his appointments, and speaking about four hours a day.

Mr. Bell carried Hall, White, Jackson, Gwinnett, Banks, Habersham, Milton and Cherokee. We were opposed to the gentleman in the primary but the people of the district want Mr. Bell and we will jump on the band wagon and join the procession with pleasure.

CHALLENGE FROM DR. C. H. JONES.

Offer to Refund Money if Dr. Howard's Specific Will Not Cure Any Case of Constipation or Dyspepsia.

Dr. C. H. Jones is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Dahlonega or vicinity to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.

So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.

In order to secure the quickest possible introduction Dr. Jones will sell a regular fifty cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents.

This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, dizzy feelings, constipation, dyspepsia, and all forms of ammonia and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

It will regulate the bowels, tone up the whole intestinal tract, give you an appetite, make food taste good and digest well, and increase vigor. Joy and happiness will take the place of that "don't care whether I live or die" feeling.

Take advantage of Dr. Jones' challenge and secure a bottle of Dr. Howard's specific at half price, with his personal guarantee to refund your money if it does not help you.

There is no need of suffering with constipation, dyspepsia or liver disease when you can get sixty doses of a scientific medicine for their cure like Dr. Howard's specific for the small sum of 25 cents.

Mr. T. H. Pierce has held the office of clerk Superior court in McDuffie county since 1870.

The war department has notified Gov. Terrell that the funds were available to send 1,200 Georgia state troops into camp this year at Manassas, Va., in September. All expenses of transportation, rations, etc., will be defrayed by the government. Won't this be a nice trip?

The election of Judges by the people is not the method. We have had two elections in this circuit this way, and on all sides we hear the expressions of dissatisfaction, hoping that we will never have another one. The legislature should repeal the law and let the supreme court furnish names to the Governor, who shall appoint them subject to the confirmation of the Senate. This expression comes from the Marietta Journal and we much heartily agree with its editor. We never did favor the election of Judges and solicitors by the people.

Local News.

An interesting singing was held at Ashley's school house last Sunday afternoon, which was largely attended.

On Thursday night of last week Mr. Monroe Caldwell and Miss Cardelia, a daughter of Mr. J. W. Walker, were wedded near Porter Springs. Squire J. B. Caldwell officiating.

The trustees are going to spend about one hundred and fifty dollars in preparing the college boys a nice foot and base ball field. These games have gotten to be very popular and interesting every where.

Mr. N. D. Black, the recent nominee of the democratic party in Dawson county, spent several days in Dahlonega this week. Only four hundred votes were polled in Dawson and Mr. Black received three-fourths of them.

Recently Miss Mary Mote, a daughter of Mr. Newt. Mote, and Mr. Will Thompson were married in the western portion of the county. It was a run-away match and Squire Chambers performed the ceremony.

Mrs. W. B. Woodward, who went down to Americus a short time ago, returned last Monday on account of her bad health, accompanied by all her children but one or two. Mr. Woodward and these two have employment and will remain there for a while at least.

Mr. J. M. Brookshire left for Atlanta last Monday with several fine horses for sale. There has been three car loads of horses shipped from this country during the past few months. The present prices and the big demand for stock should encourage our farmers to raise more stock than they do.

Among the attorneys here this week was Col. H. H. Perry of Gainesville, who was one among the first professors of the N. G. A. College at Dahlonega. Mr. Perry was recently nominated for the legislature as one of its members from that county, which causes his many friends of Lumpkin to rejoice.

On Thursday night of last week Mrs. J. B. Brown in going from one room to another, got her foot hung in a chair, causing her to fall on the post of another chair, resulting in very painful injuries. Fortunately no ribs were broken, but her breast was considerably bruised. We are glad to state that the lady is improving now.

For a long time up to last term of Lumpkin Superior court the bailiffs of this county have been receiving from $1.50 to 2.50 per day—the mounted ones receiving the latter—making more money than even some of the county officers. At that term of the court the grand jury recommended that they be paid only $1.00 per day. We never heard of a bailiff's strike before, but on last Monday it occurred here. They didn't want to serve for $1.00 per day and some of them decided to hold out for more, but Judge Kinsey told the sheriff to summons what bailiffs he wanted and he would make them wait on the court. This was done and court resumed its business.

Last Monday Fred Collins, one of the worst cripples in the county, who has to use two crutches to make his way, entered a plea of guilty for selling liquor down at New Bridge. Everybody was at a loss to know what the Judge would do with him, for he is not worth a dollar and cannot work a bit, having to drag his legs along with the aid of his crutches. Judge Kinsey told the defendant that he had a place in the chain-gang for all kinds of people, cripples not excepted, but when Collins promised that he would violate the law no more his honor placed a fine of one hundred dollars on him or twelve months in the chain-gang, which was suspended, saying if he heard of him dealing in liquor any more he would have the sheriff to arrest him and carry him right off to the gang.

The price of hens here now is thirty cents.

Have you forgotten to return your city taxes? The time is up today.

Mr. J. P. Lilly of Dawson county, was up to see his relatives last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meaders of Gainesville, came up on a visit to relatives last week.

The picnic season has opened and there is a lot of pleasure in store for the young people.

Drop in to W. P. Price, Jr.'s store and examine his large new stock of spring goods.

Mrs. J. T. Miller of Auraria, spent last Monday in Dahlonega as the guest of Mrs. H. D. Gurley.

Little John Harrison came up from Gainesville on a visit to his grand father, Judge J. C. Brittain, last week.

Mr. Paul Castleberry, who has been book keeping in Gainesville for some time, spent last Sunday with his relatives in Dahlonega.

A friend of ours from Wahoo district, informed us last Monday that they have a politician who is now selling patent fish hooks.

Among the visitors here last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bornt of Atlanta, accompanied by Miss Allen, a resident of Floyd county.

Last week Abram Cochran of Dawson county, was bound over by Com. Baker, charged with illicit distilling who made bond for his appearance at the next term of the U. S. Court in Atlanta.

Mr. M. M. Berry, the republican who recently defeated Mr. M. C. Chester, democrat, in Nimble-wild district for Justice of the Peace, came in last Saturday, got his commission and is now ready for business.

Mr. J. B. Witt informs us that he will move his family away from Dahlonega some time in June. He says he had rather live here than any place he ever resided at, but his business calls him elsewhere and he desires his family to be with him.

Col. Farrow of Gainesville, and Mr. W. H. Courtney of White, dropped into our city last Sunday. Col. Farrow is the owner of Porter Springs about ten miles above Dahlonega, and is expecting another large crowd up there this summer. The Queen of the Mountains is well known all over the country as a pleasant place for lower country visitors and they always go there.

It is with deep sorrow that it becomes our duty to announce the death of Mr. John D. Wheelchel, which occurred in Hall county on the night of the 24th at about 8 o'clock, at the age of 53. The deceased was the father of Dr. Henry C. Wheelchel of Dahlonega, and was one of the best citizens of Hall county. He had been a member of the Methodist church for more than 60 years and died within six miles of where he was born. His remains were buried at the Hopewell church cemetery.

We had with us last Friday U. S. Deputies A. J. Spence of Nelson, R. O. Hopkins of Jasper, and Deputy Marshal J. D. Cowart of Jasper, who came over as witnesses against Abram Cochran, who they had caught violating the revenue law down in Dawson county recently. These officers have been troubling the blockaders a good deal. They have within a few weeks destroyed two or three distilleries, captured over eighty gallons of whiskey and made several arrests in Dawson county.

Among them was a ten-year-old boy, who was operating the distillery with as much skill as a man. At another place the operator of a concern showed fight and they had to knock him down twice and then use a pistol on his head before he would submit. He had just finished his last run and was fixing to leave for Texas in a day or so, but will have to put off his trip now for a few months at least.

See announcements elsewhere.

Dr. Stow was up from Dawsonville this week.

Mr. C. W. Satterfield is still housed up with the mumps.

The Lumpkin county grand jury returned 12 true bills this week.

A Series of meetings have been held at the Baptist church here for two weeks.

If you have lost a bunch of small keys call at this office and pay for this ad. and get them.

Another cold wave struck Dahlonega last Tuesday, bringing over-coats into use again three or four days.

Mr. Jess Turner writes a card from Atlanta stating that he is not dead as was reported. This news we give with pleasure.

Our new subscribers and those who renewed their subscription to THE NUGGET this week, will please accept our thanks.

Mr. G. D. Bruce left this week for Blue Ridge, Ga., where he goes to resume his work in the photograph business.

The next Lumpkin county finance committee is Messrs. T. F. Jackson, W. H. Jones and M. J. Williams.

The Sigma Nu picnic takes place next Monday at Porter Springs, and the P. K. A. have theirs the Monday following.

All the road commissioners of Lumpkin county will have to show cause by the next term of the Superior court why the stones and water breaks are not removed from the roads.

A considerable wind and hail storm visited this county last Monday night. The wind was heavy here, and some of the electric light poles were blown down.

Mr. G. C. Wallace, after an absence from Dahlonega for several months, returned on a visit this week. Cicero use to live here and has a host of friends who are always glad to see him among us.

The finest corn we have ever looked at, was brought in by Mr. A. J. Ash last Tuesday. The seed was brought from Tennessee and the ears averaged twelve inches long. He was paid one dollar per bushel for it.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. Cal. Jackson to take the paupers of Lumpkin at $5.00 per month, and hereafter no one will receive any aid from the county unless they are willing to be cared for by Mr. Jackson. This will decrease the pauper's expenses considerably.

One of the largest rattlesnakes ever found in this county was killed by the Beasley boys a few miles from Dahlonega last week. Some black crows kept flying up and down at a certain place hallowing, and the boys thinking it was a young one, went out to see, and instead of a crow it was a big rattlesnake coiled up, ready for a fight.

Mr. R. W. Walker, after residing here for quite a while, took his departure last Tuesday at noon for another clime—just what part of the country we do not know yet. We, together with his many other friends here, wish Mr. Walker abundant success wherever he may decide to locate, for he is a whole soul fellow and a gentleman of the highest type.

On the 20th we received the following letter from Mr. W. E. Miller of Walnut, Ga.: "I have failed to get my paper regular. I sent to the office every week. No paper for three weeks. At last I got three. What is the matter? If a change can't be made I don't want THE NUGGET any longer." The fault is in the postmaster. This is not the only time subscribers have failed to receive their papers promptly, and we are getting tired of it. We will preserve your letter and if such trouble arises there any more we will report it to the department and see if a change can't be made sure enough.

A light snow on the Blue Ridge last Wednesday and a few flakes fell here. This is certainly a new kind of spring weather.

The party who carried off Mr. W. D. Seabolt's oyster coat from Sheriff Davis' the day after the election, are requested to return it to its owner.

The visiting attorneys who attended Lumpkin Superior court this week are: A. W. Vandiver of Dawsonville; L. L. Oakes of Cleveland; H. H. Perry, W. F. Findley, Howard Thompson, Geo. K. Cooper and B. P. Gaillard of Gainesville.

Mr. Robert Smith of Sherokoe county, who is attending college at Dahlonega, returned to college last Saturday after a pleasant trip down home. On the 20th he was nominated tax receiver of that county by the democrats without opposition. This was enough to make him look pleased and feel happy.

Mr. Henry M. Tower, who was located at Auraria, Ga., for some time and bought real estate in this section, died at his home in Spencer, Mass., on April 24th of asthma. Mr. Tower is the gentleman who bought up so many Indian relics. The deceased made many friends during his stay here, all of whom will regret to learn of his death.

The little negro boy who stole a watch some time ago and was confined in jail here for six months at the expense of the county, was released last Tuesday. The Judge allowed the case to be not pressed on account of his young age and the length of time he had been confined. The best way to treat such shavers as this when they violate the law is for the case to be reported to their parents instead of the grand jury and see that they get a severe whipping.

The case creating the most interest in Lumpkin Superior court this week was the suit brought by Mrs. Nannie, wife of Mr. Tom Hotcheson, against Mr. John W. Jones, a gentleman about seventy-five years of age, for damages to the amount of two thousand dollars. It was alleged by plaintiff that the defendant went to the store during her husband's absence and told her that he had always liked her, she looked prettier now than she did before she was married and acted in such a manner as to alarm and damage her health. Mr. Jones said that he meant no harm by saying this as he had always been acquainted with the family. The trial consumed about a day. Col. W. A. Charters and Howard Thompson represented the plaintiff, and Col. O. J. Lilly and R. H. Baker the defendant, all putting up able arguments for their side of the case. The jury retired to the room about dark and after being out an hour and a half brought in a verdict for defendant.

Dahlonega's Memorial.

The church bells rang at 8:30 and the Battalion formed on the square. The graded school also formed and marched in front to the college chapel, followed by the cadet Battalion. After the exercises were opened the orator of the day, Col. J. H. Moore, was then introduced. Col. Moore made a fine impression on the audience in his tribute to the Southern cause. However he was not in any unfriendly spirit whatever toward the North. It was merely a respect paid to the heroes of the South, and he did so with applause.

A representative from each grade of the public school also came forward with a declamation. Then the three literary societies of the college presented speakers, namely, the Phi Mu, Decora and Gorgona. After this Col. W. P. Price made a splendid speech in response to a call in behalf of the veterans. Col. Price gave a minute description of some of his trials in the sixties when the great armies of the North and the South were trying their strength in old Virginia.

The exercises were closed at the cemetery where flowers were placed on the graves of soldiers and others. The Battalion fired three volleys in salute and all was over.

A Picnic.

The R. N. Fraternity held its annual picnic on last Monday. The day opened with a morning sun that made every living creature feel the presence of spring. The drapery of nature's new costume filled all with an impulsive spirit. The freshness of the leaf and the fragrance of the flower bathed the morning atmosphere with a new odor and the birds began to sing.

The boys rose early and began to get themselves in trim for a trip of holiday festivities. Soon they were ready and all were off for Porter Springs. These are the couples as they arranged themselves for the trip:

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Meaders, A. H. Johnson and Miss Bessie Asbury, E. B. Kirkpatrick and Miss Annie Byers, B. A. Dunn and Miss Grace Valentine, J. T. Aycock and Miss Lizzie Castleberry, J. R. Byers and Miss Fannie McGuire, J. C. Kirkpatrick and Miss Cora Byers, O. Bowen and Miss Sallie Gaillard, C. W. Davis and Miss Maud McGuire, J. F. Broach and Miss Fannie Gaillard, W. D. Drew and Miss Alice Bailey, K. L. Davis and Miss Mamie Tillson, C. D. Barnett and Miss Maud Jackson, J. E. Brown and Miss Nina McGuire.

The occasion was one of the highest pleasure to all. A large dinner was spread at the noon hour and a great variety was served. The picnic was rendered exceedingly delightful by the grace and charm of the young ladies. Their cheerfulness and success in making the day so entertaining is why the young men have a cause to rejoice. After the days parade and fun, all returned home—pleased? Yes, highly so.

A day so spent is one of the events given by the fraternity. JAMES F. BROAD.

BREVITIES.

Salted whale meat is a Japanese delicacy.
Russia has 150 regiments of mounted cosacks.
About 1,000 ships cross the Atlantic every month.

In Mexico the family of a dead deulist can claim support from the person who shot him.

A Swiss watchmaker has invented an electric watch which will go for fifteen years without winding.
The oil from the germ of a kernel of corn is worth five cents a pound, while the starch with which the kernel is filled, is worth one and one half cents per pound.

Obits are often displayed in the cottage windows of Serbia. They are put up as a sign to announce to wayfarers that a marriageable daughter dwells in the house.

In Germany, when the vote of the jury stand six against six, the prisoner is acquitted. A vote of seven against five leaves the decision to the court, and in a vote of eight against four the prisoner is convicted.

How They Avoided the Danger.

A business man who knew more about driving trades and bargains than he did about horses, took his wife driving, but before he started he inquired of the liverman, says the Cardiff Times.

"Is the horse perfectly safe?"
"Perfectly," answered the liverman, "unless you allow his tail to be mixed up with the reins."

The city man hesitated to start, but was encouraged to proceed by the assurance. "If you just keep the rein away from his tail he will be all right." As he returned the team in the evening the liverman said: "Well, I see you have had no trouble."

"Oh, no," said the man. "We had only one shower while we were out, and my wife held her umbrella over his tail while that lasted."

Here is a sample of the propositions the country editor frequently runs up against: "Send me a few copies of the paper that have the obituary and verses about the death of my child a week or so ago. You will publish the enclosed clipping about my niece's marriage. I also wish you would mention in your local columns, if it don't cost me, that I will have a few bull calves to sell. Send me two extra copies this week, but my time is out and you stop my paper, as times is out too hard to waste money on newspapers."

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK and POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If yours does not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

A Serious Joke.

Mr. Sears and Miss Nellie Harber of Commerce drove over here last Monday afternoon. A marriage license was procured from Judge Ross, and Rev. Branham's services were procured, and they were married. After the ceremony, the lady demanded the license of Mr. Branham, saying that the whole thing was only a joke. He told her the wedding was no joke, and that he could not give her the license, but must return same to the ordinary. The ordinary was asked to deliver the license, but he could not do so. He told them he would withhold putting them on record for the present. The couple realized that the joke was becoming serious. The license has not been put on record, for the ordinary is awaiting legal action to annul the marriage and prevent his making a record of it, as both parties have signed a statement to the effect that it was only a joke. —Jackson Herald.

Handwriting on Iron.

It was an accident that led to the discovery of the method of transferring handwriting to iron. An iron founder while experimenting with molten iron under different conditions accidentally dropped a ticket into a mold. He presently found that the type of the ticket was transferred to the iron in distinct characters. Following up the idea which this fact suggested, he procured a heatproof ink, with which he wrote invertedly on ordinary white paper. This paper was introduced into the mold before the molten iron was poured in. When the mold cooled the paper had been consumed by the heat, but the ink, which had remained intact, had left a clear impression on to the iron.

Sweet Music.

The children of Paris have a new toy in a clockwork phonograph costing only 75 cents. This remarkable instrument, which La Lature describes, has a mica diaphragm, a sounding box, a trumpet and a needle which follows the record upon the disk.

Most marvelous of all is the disk itself, for the voice record is made in chocolate. It is said to give a fine reproduction of the voice, and—and—and—the record, tune and all, can be eaten after it has been played.

FEATURES OF EDUCATION.

How the Exhibit at St. Louis Will Be Distinctive From That at Any Other Centennial.

By CLAUDE H. WETMORE.
Education finds more recognition in the Louisiana Purchase Exposition than in any previous centennial celebration. It is the keynote of the great enterprise, permeating every display. Moreover, the idea in its abstract has a home of its own, in that for the first time in history the appliances of school life are shown in a building constructed exclusively for this purpose.

At Chicago and at Paris this exhibit was made a department of something else. At St. Louis it is seen alone, housed in a palace which many consider the most perfect architectural of any on the grounds.

Besides, in the classification of exhibits education leads all others, taking rank over fine arts, manufacture and all the industries.

In remarking these facts visitors have added that it was strange such prominence had not been given to education before, and they are loud in their praise of those who have carried the idea so prominently to the front.

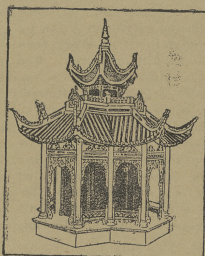

In St. Louis the revelation of process will be carried out in the Palace of Education as well as in the other palaces. For only it was deemed sufficient to arrange in booths samples of text books and of apparatus of the laboratory and observatory. Appliances used in the schools were displayed conventionally, and visitors could pass through aisle after aisle and view only the technicalities of the world of instruction. As a result the pedagogic only was interested.

In St. Louis, however, there is to be actual demonstration of the use made of all such appliances, and the multitude will find itself entertained. Thus the model training school will be a creature of life—boys to be seen using the tools of the various trades. Pupils of a school for the blind will demonstrate the methods in vogue where the sense of touch is made to supply that of sight, and those who are deaf and dumb will also be given opportunity to display their method of instruction. College professors at work in laboratories promise entertainment for the layman, and likewise there will be demonstration of the modern telescope and taking photographs of the sun, moon and stars.

Supplementing these active exhibits will be others quite as interesting that have been secured from all over the world by means of the camera. Enter one booth and turn the swiveling doors of a movable cabinet. You will see picture after picture illustrating school life, the children entering a class room, the pupils at recitation, in a fire drill, during the recess hour—in fact, through all the stages from the hour when they assemble for their studies until they come for dismissal.

As illustrations of public school life in large cities, New York, St. Louis, Cleveland and other municipalities have planned to make extensive displays, we expect that the old world will bring their systems into comparison.

Higher education is exemplified as never before at a world's fair. All the large colleges of the United States have prepared extensive exhibits which are supplemented by displays from technical institutions.

Both interesting and novel will be the exhibits made by the Agricultural department of the Federal government in the Education building, for which congress made a special appropriation of $100,000. These will be in the nature of experiment stations such as have been established at various places throughout the country for the practical education of those who desire to study the scientific questions of agriculture and horticulture. Here will be demonstrated the best system of fertilizing the soil, of sowing the seeds, of caring for the crops, of harvesting them, and then for handling the same in barns and storehouses. Visitors to the Exposition will be given the opportunity for instruction in the diseases which infect the realm of flora and the medicines or surgery that must be employed to combat the dangerous intruders.

Located on the Grand basin and commanding a view of the Cascades, the Terrace of States and the Hall of Festivals, the Palace of Education, itself a portion of the main picture, can be reached by either the broad boardwalks or by transit over the crystal waters of the Lagoon. Its visitors may reach its doors in roller chairs on foot or in gondola or electric launch.

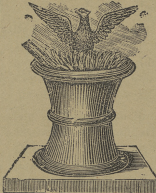

In this building, as in the others, special arrangements have been made for the comfort of the sightseer. Multitudinous windows permit of free currents of air constantly circulating, and withdrawal rooms are at every hand where one can sit down after becoming fatigued from too much exploration.
